Power Development and Rates Aired At Special Commerce Group Session

Chamber Directors Hear Arguments on Leasing of Rights at Campbell River; Will Forward Resolution to Government Setting Forth Desires on Awarding of Records; General Opinion Favors Application of B. C. Electric Railway Company

A general discussion on power rates and the feasibility of the Chamber of Commerce backing the application of the B. C. Electric Railway Company for power rights at Campbell River featured a special meeting of the Chamber directors today.

The meeting was called specially for consideration of the Campbell River lease, P. B. Fowler, the president, presiding.

After a discussion lasting an hour and a half, in which the general consensus of opinion was for support of the B. C. Electric, a resolution calling for an expression of the Chamber's views on the principle at issue was passed. This resolution it was indicated, while not favoring any special company, would outline the conditions under which the Chamber desired to see the lease awarded.

The views of the B. C. Electric were presented to the meeting by A. T. Goward, vice-president. Following his statement the subject was thrown open for general discussion.

PARKS ADVOCATE
C. L. Harrison suggested that considerable weight to the views of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island should be given in consideration of the power question. The upper Island was even more directly concerned with the matter than was the city, he said, urging that the rights of the city of Victoria be given full bearing in connection with power development.

That the Dominion Government was directly interested in this area for the purposes of developing it as a national park was a factor, for serious thought, he added. If the power rights were alienated, the area would be spoiled for park purposes and everything should be done to protect the interests of the adjacent communities.

In reply Mr. Goward quoted from an up-Island newspaper in which it was intimated that the Courtenay people would not be alarmed at the flooding of Buttle Lake for power development purposes.

In answer to a question by Fred McGregor regarding power rates for Victoria firms in want of this development, Mr. Goward declared that it was, of course, impossible to reply definitely at the present time and moreover, he pointed out the Government had considerable control over the rates levied by a power company in the Governmental act, it was stressed, however, that a company should receive suitable return for the capital invested. SAILOR CROSSES ATLANTIC IN TWENTY-TWO-FOOT BOAT Gibara, Cuba, May 6.—Paul Muller, German sailor, is in Cuban waters after a safe crossing of the Atlantic in a 22-foot lifeboat called the Aga. He used a sail as well as oars to propel his craft. So unexpected was his appearance that he was detained here yesterday because of lack of papers. To-day he was continuing his voyage toward Havana.

B.C. ELECTRIC POWER VIEWS ARE SUBMITTED

A. T. Goward Outlines Company's Plans Before Commerce Chamber

Development at Campbell River Would Total $19,000,000

That an aggressive development policy would be pursued by the B. C. Electric Railway Company at Campbell River if power rights were secured by the company was the statement of A. T. Goward, vice-president, today.

In the course of an address before a special meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Goward pointed out that $8,000,000 horsepower could be developed at Campbell River at an estimated expenditure of $19,000,000.

"Before dealing with the question of our company's application to the Government for water rights at Campbell River I would like to explain the power situation in Victoria and vicinity," Mr. Goward said.

"Taking care of the future is one of the most important things that a public utility company has to keep always before them. Our power demand for a good many years past, until a short time ago, increased at an average rate of three per cent. per annum. Then in 1927 there was a sudden jump in power demand of about fifteen per cent, and in 1928 the percentage of increase was twenty per cent. You will see at once that these last two years, particularly last year, made a complete change in the power situation. Whereas, until two years ago, we figured that the reserve at Jordan River would take care of the increase in power demand, for roughly fifteen or twenty years, the very rapid growth, particularly last year, changed that time preconceived idea and made it necessary that we should immediately find further sources of power to take care of the increased development at this end of the Island." Municipal Elections Are Held In France

Paris, May 6.—Yesterday's municipal elections in France changed the political complexion very little, judging from incomplete returns at hand to-day. The communists and extreme left seemed to have lost votes, if not seats.

The Socialists, too, suffered losses. They were beaten at Brest and at Cherbourg, Paul Faure, one of their prominent members, being defeated. The Radicals appeared to have held their own. They lost Angers, but won at Brest from the Socialists. Former Minister Heriot, it seems, had triumphed again at Lyons.

SIR WM. OTTER IS NEAR DEATH

Toronto, May 6.—No change is reported to-day in the condition of General Sir William Otter, who, according to his physician, Dr. J. T. Fotheringham, is "dying of old age."

Sir William, who is in his eighty-sixth year, has been unconscious for the last ten days and is gradually becoming weaker. Dr. Fotheringham said he doubted if the aged soldier would survive the next two days.

Plane Prepared for 5,000-mile Flight Attempt

Built two years ago for Capt. Rene Fonck's projected transatlantic flight and named the Ville de Paris, the big Sikorsky plane pictured above has been renamed the Southern Star and is being tuned for an attempt to fly from Tampa, Florida, to Santiago, Chile, without a stop. The voyage to Chile is successful, the plane is to be put into regular service between the Panama Canal Zone and South American cities.

Earth Shocks In Persia Kill 2,000

Teheran, Persia, May 6.—Two thousand deaths were reported today in unofficial telegraph reports on three days of earthquakes in the Khorasan district of north-eastern Persia.

The telegrams said several villages literally had been destroyed, with 200 buildings demolished in the cities of Shirvan and Hajrud, near the Turkistan border.

The tremors were said to have caused "three days of terror."

Four violent earthquakes were reported from Ashkhabad, Russian Turkistan, last Friday, with a heavy death toll reported in Persian villages along the international line and damage on the Turkistan side. The Turkistan Government rushed medical aid to the Persian victims.

'Mussolini's Lunch' Not On British Stage, But Soon In Book Form

London, May 6.—Edgar Middleton, denied the right to produce his play, "Mussolini's Lunch," a take-off on the life of the Italian dictator, on the stage of this country, will publish his book, so that all Britain may read.

"I never felt so flattered in my life," he said today in commenting upon the action of the Earl of Cromer, Lord Chamberlain and official play censor, in forbidding the production of this country. "The idea of Mussolini's lunch trembling in the balance because I poke a little fun at him in a little revue."

He said he thought the scene quite innocent and harmless, but perhaps the Italian Premier's skin was a little thin. It was described as nothing more than purporting to show that even dictators were mere men to their wives and families. The scene objected to was but one part of an elaborate revue.

DEADLOCK AFTER POLLING MAY BE BRITISH TANGLE

Much Discussion of Possibilities; MacDonald Urges Majority For Some Party

London, May 6 (By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent).—As the sands of the present Parliament run out, fears and prophecies of a deadlock in the next Parliament are becoming increasingly common.

At Retford Saturday night Right Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Leader of the Opposition, urged that somebody should be given a majority in the general election, May 30.

U.S.-ALASKA AIR MAIL LINK URGED

Washington, May 6.—Establishment of air mail service between the United States and Alaska was discussed with President Hoover today by Senators Bingham, Connecticut, and Moses, New Hampshire, Republicans. As yet, they said, no route had been chosen for the new service, but the plan is to be put approved by Congress at the last session.

REPARATIONS PLAN DISCUSSED

Creditor Nations' Delegates at Paris Consider Young's Proposals

Paris, May 6.—Owen D. Young, chairman of the Reparations Commission, presented his proposed compromise figures with the German reparations to the experts of the creditor nations late today.

Emile Moreau, chief of the French delegation, immediately assembled all the members of the French representation and their advisers for a long conference at the Bank of France.

Meanwhile, Emile Francœur, head of the Belgian delegation, conferred with the Belgian delegation, and they decided upon the acceptance or rejection of Mr. Young's proposals.

Good Roads Delegates Gather In Ottawa

Ottawa, May 6.—The Inter-Provincial Conference on Good Roads will be opened in Ottawa to-morrow. It will be held under the auspices of the Canadian Good Roads Association and most of the Provincial Ministers in charge of highways are expected to attend.

The principal speeches to-morrow will be by S. L. Squire, chairman of the executive of the Good Roads Association, and Hon. H. A. McKenna, chief commissioner of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada.

Vancouver, May 6.—Twenty-seven thousand chicks perished in a fire last night which gutted a large part of the building occupied by the Canadian Hatcheries Limited at Burnaby. About 125,000 eggs and three incubators were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

NEW THREAT OF VIOLENCE IN BERLIN

Funeral of Communists Wednesday May Bring More Clashes With Police

Berlin, May 6.—Threats of new violence Wednesday loomed to-day to mark hopes built on last night's peacefulness in the Neukölln and Wedding districts here, where police were in full control after four days of communist rioting.

At a secret meeting 1,200 communist leaders, obtaining admission only by each speaking a special catchword, voted to bury twenty-one of their fallen comrades in a single grave Wednesday, turning the funeral after interment into a monster political demonstration.

STRIKE CALL

A resolution was passed calling workers throughout the city to begin a general strike at 2 p.m. Wednesday. Although the strictest measures were adopted to prevent the public knowing of what happened at the meeting, it is known there was in evidence no disposition to accept the truce thrust upon them by the police.

Meanwhile the state of siege continued in both Wedding and Neukölln districts, although there had been no fighting there since Saturday. No one was allowed abroad on the Herestraße after 9 p.m. and until after 4 a.m. to-day. While at first it had been believed this restriction would be lifted to-day, continued evidence of sullen disposition of the residents of the two areas made it probable it would be continued temporarily.

ATTACK ON POLICEMAN

But one incident was reported Sunday, the fifth day of the disturbances, that being an attack on a policeman. That and occasional shots by police clearing the roofs where snipers had held out constituted the only firing.

There was no repetition of the open street fighting of the first four days. In all twenty-seven lost their lives in the four days' rioting, and of many wounded, twenty-nine were in serious condition. After registration of their names, 100 of those held under arrest for participation in the rioting were released.

GOOD ROADS DELEGATES GATHER IN OTTAWA

Ottawa, May 6.—The Inter-Provincial Conference on Good Roads will be opened in Ottawa to-morrow. It will be held under the auspices of the Canadian Good Roads Association and most of the Provincial Ministers in charge of highways are expected to attend.

160 Men on One of Two Trains Blocked on Hudson Bay Line

Winnipeg, May 6.—For ten days northern Manitoba has been in the grip of the worst blizzard known to that territory, north of Mile 442 on the Hudson Bay Railway. The line is completely blocked and efforts are being made by the Canadian National Railways to reach two work trains which are snowed in. One of these, carrying 160 men, is en route to Churchill, on Hudson Bay, for the Department of Railways and Canals, and the other has a smaller list of passengers southbound.

As the line is blocked for a distance of at least sixty-five miles, there has been the danger of food supplies on the trains running short. Realizing this, the company, at the outset of the storm, dispatched food by horses from a cache at Mile 460. Later, when the horses were no longer able to get through, dog teams were sent out, and now three tractors are ploughing their way from Churchill to the trains.

GRAIN CONGESTION WILL CAUSE CREWS TO BE PAID OFF

Montreal, May 6.—With seventy-six Great Lakes vessels in the port of Montreal and thirty-three others down-bound, the grain congestion situation here to-day remained acute.

Some of the lake shipping companies have already signified their intention of paying off the crews of their vessels until they are ready to sail again, which may not be for a few weeks. There will be about 2,000 men out of work if all the vessels pay their crews off, it is stated.

City Alive to Campbell River Power Development as Vital to Island Communities

The issue is for $100,000, in 5 per cent. sinking fund debentures to run twenty-five years.

This is the first call the city has made this year for money over the bond route, and is authorized by the by-law ratified by the ratepayers at the last municipal election. The money will be used to finance the city's grant of $100,000 towards the cost of the new nurses' home at the Jubilee Hospital, now under construction by Lumsy Bros., at the site of the cricket grounds, facing on Richmond Avenue. Navy Conferees Adjourn With Progress Reported

Geneva, May 6.—The Preparatory Disarmament Commission adjourned to-day with the next move toward disarmament awaiting action by the Big Five naval powers.

In adjourning, the commission left the date of the next meeting open, but with the understanding that it will be convened again when the naval nations announce they have achieved enough progress toward a naval agreement to justify summoning of what is expected to be the last session of the commission before convocation of an international convention on disarmament.

McGeer Addresses Saskatchewan Inquiry Body at Session in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 6.—Opportunities of this port to compete in the movement of Canada's exportable grain surplus with the Atlantic terminals on equal terms were discussed at the opening of the Saskatchewan Grain Inquiry Commission's sessions here this forenoon. The commission was presented the proposal that the British Columbia coast route was not receiving the consideration in railway rates afforded the ports of Eastern Canada and those south of the line on the Atlantic seaboard.

G. G. McGeer, K.C., appeared on behalf of the Grain Growers of British Columbia.

The session was opened with a statement by Chief Justice J. T. Brown, chairman, that the investigation here would take a broad view of the growth importance of this port, and anything that tended to help the producers or those who merchandized products through this port would be a proper subject of consideration.

TWO CENTS A BUSHEL

After Mr. McGeer's address the chairman said he was not sure the body could properly go into the matter of equalization of rates. That was for the Railway Commission, and there were other and equally pertinent questions the Grain Commission would find to engage its time. But Mr. McGeer contended that the matter of what he termed rate discrimination to the Southern British Columbia ports of two cents a bushel so vitally concerned the producers of Alberta and Saskatchewan that it did come directly in line with the work of the commission here. He said Parliament had established a basis for rates eastward, but not westward.

Chief Justice Brown observed the commission was not here to criticize the work of Parliament, but Mr. McGeer said the commission could at least consider an oversight on the part of Parliament.

THE BIG SIX

The work of the Yankee home run twins, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, featured the Big Six yesterday. Gehrig followed his home run assault of Saturday by getting three out of five official attempts against Chicago pitchers, thereby lifting his average to .370 and retaining the Big Six leadership. Ruth collected three out of four, but failed by a fraction of a point to escape from the cellar. Paul Waner got one out of four at Boston and just

MANY STARTERS FOR PREAKNESS

Twenty Horses Expected to Run in Big Stakes at Pimlico Friday

Baltimore, Md., May 6.—Of the nearly 100 nominees for the Preakness stakes, to be run at Pimlico Friday, more than a score were counted yesterday as probable starters. Of this score sixteen have seen action on Eastern tracks during the Spring season, seven being returned winners and in turn been beaten by other Preakness candidates.

Minotaur, owned by Charles Gaffagnini, has won three events, one each at Bowie, Havre de Grace and Pimlico, and the Jacques stables Esau has won at both Bowie and Jamaica. Leucite, the Rancocas stable's hope for the Maryland classic, has also flashed home in front, and seemingly improves with each start.

The Hilltop, feature race on Saturday's card at Pimlico, a trial for the Preakness candidates, was taken by Walter J. Salmon's Dr. Freedom, though he was being hard pushed by The Nut, owned by the Warm stable, which held too long, was finishing with a hard drive. Hermitage, Earl Sande's entry for the event Friday, after leading into the stretch, held out for show money. H. T. Archibald's Folkini, the Dorwood stable's favorite, and the R. C. stable's Hot finished in that order.

Blue Larkspur, E. B. Bradley's nomination for the Preakness and favorite for the Kentucky Derby, will not run, the Kentucky horseman having decided to hold him for the event at Churchill Downs.

THE COPPER INDUSTRY

BY ALLARD SMITH,
Vice President, The Union Trust Company, Cleveland.

ONE of the most dramatic events of the business world in recent months has been the sensational rise and the recent drastic decline of copper prices. For several years copper clung to a depressed level of around 13 or 14 cents a pound. It began to show marked signs of strength late in 1928, rising to 24 cents a pound by April of 1929.

The advance of the red metal was intimately connected with the rise of living standards in this country, as reflected by the marked growth of the electrical, automobile, radio and other industries which use large quantities of copper.

Sales of radio sets mounted from $5,000,000 in 1922 to $300,000,000 in 1928. There are now 10,000,000 sets in the U. S.

Although both production and consumption of copper have made new high records, the demand until recently outstripped the supply, with the result that stocks of the metal in producers' hands ran low. They amounted to 55,000 tons this spring compared with 105,000 tons one year ago.

European recovery has been another important factor in the return of the copper industry to prosperous conditions. Export shipments from United States were $74,221 tons against 641,865 tons in 1927. Shipments to domestic users made an even larger gain, however, the total being $33,469 tons compared with $24,844 in 1927.

Most large consumers have purchased enough copper for their needs for the next two months. This fact has caused some slackening in current demand. In addition soaring prices have stimulated production and supplies have increased. When pressed upon the market these had an adverse effect upon prices. In the second week of April the price dropped precipitately from 24 cents a pound to below 20 cents. Meanwhile, most producers in the industry have been enjoying the greatest prosperity since war days. This fact was vigorously reflected by an impressive stock market advance of prices of copper shares.

LAUGHS from the DIAMOND

BY BILLY EVANS

The fact that Tommy Connolly, dean of the American League umpires, has survived thirty-six years of umpiring, will give you a real insight into his temperament.

Firm, but diplomatic, the possessor of a keen sense of humor, he has made his arduous task far easier than most officials.

Connolly, on the ball field, has a serious look that really belies his real character. His severe mien would cause one to believe he was thoroughly disgusted with life. Yet, just the opposite is true.

In a game I have in mind, Connolly and I were working in Boston. He lives, by the way, only a short distance away, at Natick, Mass., and it is a well-established belief among umpires that it always is difficult to umpire in one's home town. Boston is regarded as Connolly's home town.

In this game, it seemed as if a majority of the plays were going against Boston. The Sox were taking a trimming, much to the disgust of the fans. And, as it often happens at such moments, the fans turned to the umpire to get their money's worth at his expense.

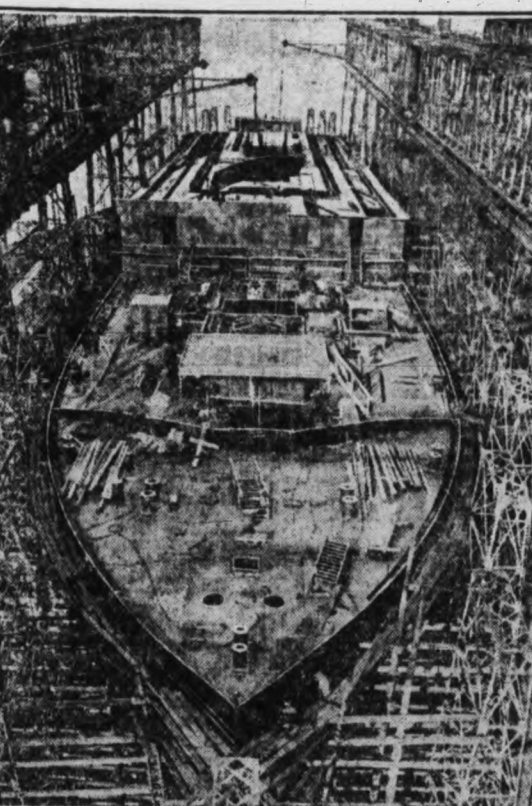

"Don't you ever smile, Connolly?" cried one roofer. From the start of the game, he voiced that question, and he kept on repeating the same old line all through the game.

He seemed the more the fan asked the question, the angrier became Connolly's expression. Possibly Tommy was playing up to him. It caused considerable laughter at Tommy's expense, but before the finish it became decidedly monotonous.

To get to our dressing-room, we had to pass close to the box occupied by Connolly's tormentor. When within fifteen or twenty feet of it, the fan let out what he felt would be his final blast:

"Don't you ever smile, Connolly?" Connolly, in his best voice and severest face, came back with: "Did you ever see the villain in a show smile?"

NEW WHITE STAR MOTOR SHIP

The new SS. Britannic, of which the first announcement containing details of this new White Star motor ship, were received by the White Star Canadian Service this week.

The steamer will be launched in about two months' time and will enter the Atlantic trade in the fall. Her length, designed to be the longest, will be about 680 feet, 80 feet longer than liners of the type of the Doric and Regina which are in the company's service on the St. Lawrence route during the summer season.

The Britannic will have a gross tonnage of 27,000 tons. The motive power to drive this latest motor ship will be supplied by two 10-cylinder Harland and W. double acting motors, while throughout the ship the fullest use will be made of electricity, for navigating and controlling the ship, for cooking, ventilating, and for operating the enormous amount of service machinery necessary in a ship of the size of the Britannic.

Designed to carry cabin, tourist third cabin and third class, the Britannic will have a passenger capacity of 1,500. One of the outstanding features of the passenger accommodation is the provision of a large number of single rooms.

The steamer will be used on the Liverpool-New York route, but during the winter of 1930 she will make two cruises to the Mediterranean.

Three British Columbia Championships Come to Victoria; Bouts Are Good

With three local boxers winning provincial titles the first British Columbia amateur boxing and wrestling championships were decided at the Tillamook Athletic Club Saturday night before a good house.

Fighting at 106 pounds, Clarence Leask decisively outpointed Ordi Campbell, of Chilliwack, for the flyweight crown of British Columbia. Campbell put up a good fight but although he was five pounds heavier than Leask he was no match for the local boy.

In the featherweight class, Wilfred Shouldice, clever Victoria boy, had to bow before the superior style of Harry Marshall, of Vancouver, who annexed the title in a clean cut manner.

Marshall also defeated George Fairweather of Port Hammond in the finals of the lightweight division. In the preliminaries of the lightweight class Marshall defeated Tommy Drysdale, of Victoria, while Fairweather won from G. S. Phillips, of Victoria.

Finishing up a regular Donnybrook with a hard right to the jaw which sent his opponent to the canvas for a count of four, Gerald Sharpe, of Victoria, defeated Dave Campbell, of Vancouver, in the finals of the welterweight class.

CALLUM WINS EASILY
Tim Gurney, of Ganage, proved to be no match for Louis Callum, in the light heavyweight class and Callum won easily.

In the preliminary mix for the featherweight crown, Wilf Shouldice won the decision from John Poyer, another local boy.

New Westminster won the welterweight wrestling championship when James Hansen tossed Dan Harrison, of the Tillamook in forty-five seconds.

In an exhibition wrestling bout, Chris Hansen of the New Westminster Y.M.C.A. threw Pete Tyson, a local boy, in four minutes.

Henry Hall, K.C., presented the medals to the winners at the conclusion of the tourney.

The complete list of winners is as follows:
Flyweight division, 112 pounds—Clarence Leask, Victoria.
Bantamweight division, 118 pounds—Norman Wood, Vancouver.
Featherweight division, 126 pounds—Harry Marshall, Vancouver.
Lightweight division, 135 pounds—Harry Marshall, Vancouver.
Welterweight division, 147 pounds—Gerald Sharpe, Victoria.
Light heavyweight division—Louis Callum, Victoria.

Wrestling:
Flyweight division, 150 pounds—James Hansen, New Westminster.

RIFLE SHOOTING

With a score of 100 Lieut. Dave Fyvie, for the fourth successive time, led the marksmen in the weekly shoot of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association at Heals Range on Saturday.

Three other members of his unit followed closely in the scoring column. The shooting of the younger members of the association has been improving steadily, and it is expected that they will furnish stiff opposition to the veterans in the British Columbia meet at Heals from July 3 to 6.

Complete scores follow:

THE RECORD BREAKING NEW NASH "400".

A Great Sales Swing to Nash

The leadership of the new Nash "400" in quality and value is asserting itself in rapidly growing sales leadership.

Offering a group of outstanding new advancements possessed by no other car—completely equipped at the factory except for spare tire, the new Nash "400" models are winning a welcome from buyers that is emphatically reflected in the monthly sales gains pictured above.

To know how far the new Nash "400" surpasses any other car of similar price, you must learn for yourself all the advantages of Twin Ignition—22% more power than from the same motor with single ignition, 5 miles per hour more speed, and 2 extra miles from every gallon of gasoline.

You must experience the pleasure of turning and parking the Nash "400"—the world's easiest steering car.

You must learn the simplicity, certainty and economy of Nash-Bijur centralized chassis lubrication.

And finally, you must compare the delivered prices of Nash "400" models with other makes in the same field.

You will be amazed to find how much more other cars have added to the factory price before quoting a delivered price to you. Right here Nash will often save you from $50 to $150.

it takes less power than your electric iron

THIS is the remarkable achievement of the Coffield Gyrator Washer. It runs so smoothly—is so perfectly adjusted—there is no friction or vibration. All bearings are self-lubricating. The Coffield actually runs so smoothly, it takes less current than an electric iron.

Clothes are CLEANED perfectly (even the collars and cuffs) by the Coffield Washer in the fastest time known. This is a broad claim, but a demonstration will prove it. The thorough and rapid cleansing of clothes is accomplished by its forceful swirling water action. This is created by the patented bowl-shaped bottom of tub and the patented gyrator with offset wings. The Coffield dealer near you will be pleased to demonstrate it in your home without obligation.

MANILA SURGEON BOUND TO PARIS

Dr. C. Singain, Director of Oldest Hospital in the Philippines

Dr. C. Singain, director of the San Juan de Dios Hospital, the oldest medical institution in the Philippines, reached here today from Manila by the steamship President Cleveland. The San Juan de Dios Hospital was founded three hundred years ago. Dr. Singain stated that he was en route to London and Paris to attend important medical conferences. He specializes in surgery.

Dr. Singain was accompanied by Juan Arellano, prominent Filipino architect and designer of the Philippine Legislative Building at Manila. Mr. Arellano plans to make a study of American architecture during his visit to the United States, where he expects to remain for several months.

Francisco Zamora, secretary to Senator Casmara, one of the chief Filipino delegates to Washington, D.C., was a passenger on the President Cleveland. He is bound to the United States capital to join the senator.

KING GEORGE ENJOYS DRIVES

Bognor, Eng., May 6.—It was revealed last night that on Friday last King George had gone for his first drive on public roads since his illness. Accompanied by Queen Mary, he was driven to Goodwood Park. The journey to the famous racecourse and scenic centre, which in a few months will be the scene of an important racing meet, occupied just over an hour.

On Saturday the King again went for a drive, accompanied by the Queen, Sir Charles Cust and Lady Cynthia Cusset, to Arundel Castle. Wearing a heavy overcoat, he looked remarkably fit and well.

NAVY CONFEREES REPORT PROGRESS AS THEY ADJOURN

Commission to complete its work in arranging for an international conference. General Alberto de Marini of Italy said his Government would support the proposal for adjournment in order to enable the Governments to study the disarmament proposals submitted by the United States.

Embassador Gibson then took the floor and concurred with the proposal to postpone consideration of the naval chapter of the draft treaty of the commission until such time as the most interested powers had signified to the chairman their readiness to embark upon a general discussion.

Embassador Gibson remarked that if the naval problem was in essence simple, it was complex in application, for the technical considerations involved must be studied from many angles. The United States delegation, he said, wanted each country to come into the discussion prepared to speak on a basis of independent study.

LITVINOFF SPEAKS
Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs, hinted at dissent, but agreed.

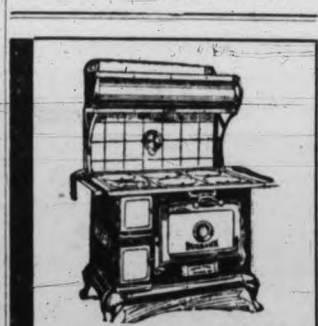

The chair announced the postponement of the discussion of the naval chapter of the draft treaty until the naval powers had concluded their discussions on it.

PROPOSAL WITHDRAWN
Geneva, May 6.—Count Masagill, French delegate to the preparatory disarmament conference here, today announced his Government would withdraw its proposal for international control of armaments.

The proposal had met with considerable opposition from various delegations. Its withdrawal was considered a considerable compromise.

Count Masagill said France still believed in international supervision, but realized it was not feasible for the moment. He said his Government later would offer ideas for centralization and exchange of information regarding armaments.

"I hope this country will not return a Parliament which numerical proportions will be nothing but a deadlock," he said. "Give us a majority. Let some party or other have a majority."

LOYD GEORGE BIG FACTOR
He continued along this line, voicing a fear, present in many men's minds, especially since Right Hon. David Lloyd George started the country with pledges to solve the unemployment problem.

Conservative organization managers are claiming a minimum of 335 seats for their party. This would mean a Conservative loss of sixty-three seats, but deducting the Speaker, would still give them a clear majority of fifty-six. With such a majority the government could navigate safely. But among the Conservative ranks and file are those who doubt whether, when the fighting is over, the roll call will show even a clear majority of thirty. And with anything less than thirty, party whips at Westminster expect days and nights of alarm.

LABOR PREDICTIONS
Nor, except for a few enthusiasts, does Labor expect to gain a clear majority. One prominent Labor man gave the writer the following as his personal forecast of the election results: Labor and Independents, 290, Conservatives, 275, Liberals, fifty.

The remarkable feature of this forecast is that, while it only grants the Liberals a net increase of four over their present standing, it enthrones Lloyd George as the virtual architect of the next Parliament. He could support a Labor Government on terms or defeat it.

VOICES EXPECTATION
Lloyd George, indeed, in almost every speech he makes, indicates he expects to hold the balance of power in the next House, and Sir Donald Maclean, former leader of the Asquith Liberals and now a Liberal candidate in a northern district of Cornwall, significantly observes that "under the present conditions it is well within the bounds of probability that the Liberals will be called upon by the King to form a Government."

But it all simmers down to the prediction that under the Conservative predictions are correct, Westminster is likely to see a repetition of Ottawa's experience of 1926, but with a difference. At Ottawa, the decision lay in the hands of the Progressives with no expectation of forming an alternative Government. At Westminster a Liberal balance would be directed by men skilled in the art of parliamentary manoeuvre, whose desire to form a Liberal administration they are at no pains to conceal.

LABOR MEN ARGUED DIFFERENTLY. They think that even with the Liberals holding the balance of power, a Labor Government would still get enough independent Liberal support to enable it to function.

FOSTERING INDUSTRIES

Since the huge development would make an unusual reserve on which the company would not have the right to levy rates, the fostering of industries would naturally follow to take care of the supply, suggested J. O. Cameron.

Mr. Cameron further urged that people in Victoria most definitely should support the B.C. Electric's application. There were no two views on the matter as far as the city residents were concerned. He made a resolution that the chamber should seek for favorable consideration of the B.C. Electric Company's application from the Government.

CAMPBELL RIVER COMPANY

James Forman, representing the Campbell River Company, outlined the activities of that company. The Canadian Utilities Company, a subsidiary of the International Utilities Company, had been willing to acquire the company's rights. The company he represented had formerly approached the B.C. Electric with a view to selling, but the electric company had not taken the matter up.

Mr. Forman outlined the size of the International Utility Company holdings in Canada, amounting to over $20,000,000.

Before definitely committing themselves on the matter, the chamber should wait until the question came up before the Water Board.

Reeve William Crouch of Saanich also urged function of the question before a decided stand was taken by the chamber. The municipality was vitally interested, he claimed, having suffered under high power rates for several years.

Mr. Goward pointed out that the municipality always had the opportunity of arguing rates before the Water Board.

Reeve Crouch replied by declaring that the large sum of money necessary "to go to the mat" with the B.C. Electric had not been at the disposal of the municipality.

Capt. R. P. Matheson suggested that it should be the policy of the people to see that rates on Campbell River power should be the lowest that project alone and not upon the company's total investment in the Province. Mr. Goward replied that the rates were under the control of the Government board.

After considerable discussion over rates, Mr. Cameron renewed his motion and was seconded by J. W. Spencer.

WANTS REVIEW OF WATER ACT
Alderman Eugene S. Woodward protested immediate action on the matter, suggesting that if necessary the whole Water Act should come under review.

Reeve Crouch moved an amendment to the motion that the board should not go on record as favoring any company at the present time.

Capt. Matheson claimed that the granting of the power lease would give a monopoly of power rights on the Island.

J. C. Pendray seconded Reeve Crouch's motion, declaring that while he favored the B.C. Electric, he favored the B.C. Electric because of the company in the matter, he thought it was proper that such an important body as the Chamber of Commerce should not make any recommendation to the Government until the question had been heard by the water board from both sides.

Mr. Goward replied that while his company had come under criticism for alleged neglect of Vancouver Island, since this could not be stated in the present instance, the company felt their application should receive the support of the responsible men of Victoria.

James Parfitt, who also represented the manufacturers' association, spoke in favor of the B.C. Electric's application.

S. J. Drake favored the tabling of the question.

B. C. Nicholas suggested that instead of a direct resolution in favor of the B.C. Electric Company, a general motion embodying the conditions under which the board desired to see the power rights granted should be drawn up.

The motions of Mr. Cameron and Reeve Crouch were then withdrawn by their sponsors.

The resolution of Mr. Nicholas, seconded by J. L. Beckwith, carried unanimously.

"Our present development at Jordan River is 20,000 horsepower, and we are proceeding at once to put in a further 13,000 horsepower. When this new work is completed, giving us a total of 42,000 horsepower, the economic resources of the Jordan River watershed will be at an end. We now anticipate that the Jordan River plant, fully developed, will take care of the needs of Victoria and vicinity until 1933. You will see, therefore, that it is absolutely essential that our company should secure further power to take care of the future power demands of the community. Of all the water powers on the Island, our engineers believe that the Campbell River watershed is the best and the most economical; and we have applied, as you know, for a water record on that river."

"We believe Campbell River, fully developed, can produce, approximately, 10,000 continuous horsepower or 137,000 horsepower at a 60 per cent load factor; and this should take care of the needs, not only of Victoria and vicinity, but Up-Island points for a great many years to come."

"We have not yet, of course, been able to get full data, but we believe that the cost of the total development will be, approximately, $19,000,000."

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT
"After you have heard these facts I do not think I need stress the point that the securing of this power by our company is a very serious matter for all those who are interested in the industrial development of the lower portion of the Island. It may be said, and probably will be said, that if the B.C. Electric secure the water rights at Campbell River, 'Good-bye to any development in the Upper Island—they will simply take the power and use it in Victoria.' Nothing could be more erroneous. Campbell River is a very long way off—about 165 or 170 miles—and to bring that power to Victoria is a very serious undertaking. It is, therefore, essential, and I cannot too strongly emphasize the fact, that to get this additional power to Victoria at a low cost, we should have secure and assist in building up industries on the way to use our power and at the same time take care of any and all industrial expansion in the northern section of the Island."

"On this point I would like now just to say a word about the new owners of the B.C. Electric. Sir Herbert Holt and his associates, Messrs. Nesbitt, Thomson and their associates, and others who control the company, are in a very big way in the power world, and their very distinct policy is that when they secure a water power and develop it, they do their utmost financially and otherwise to build up industries along their transmission lines to use their power. This has been done in a very striking manner in the East and places that a few years ago were nothing but bush are now thriving communities. We have very definite instructions from our principals that, if we secure Campbell River, an aggressive go-ahead policy will be undertaken here. Therefore, I think I might say without exaggeration that should we secure the Campbell River watershed rights, the legitimate requirements of the Up-Island districts, as well as Victoria and vicinity, in the way of power, will be well taken care of. I don't have to tell you, gentlemen, how beneficial this situation will be for the Island. You know it as well as I do."

CANADIAN COMPANY
"There are several companies who have applied for this power, and, without belittling anybody else, I would like just to say a word about our own company. Before doing so, however, I might say that the power, which is the biggest and the best on the Island, should be used for the beneficial use of all, and not tied up to one industry. Now, as to our own company. In the first place, we are a British and Canadian company. We operate in a very big way in this Province. Last year our wages and salaries alone amounted to $5,837,000. Not a bad sum to have distributed round among the general public. I might also point out that during the year ended December, 1928, our company paid in income and property taxes on Vancouver Island alone the sum of $75,675. We serve a territory of 150 square miles, and we render service to a population of nearly 400,000, embracing twenty-six communities. I think that, therefore, we are the logical people to obtain and undertake this development. If there are any of our competitors who can show as good a record as that, I should like to hear about it."

"It may be argued, and probably will be argued, that should another power company secure this power, that they can take care of the Up-Island needs equally as well as ourselves. Possibly I might admit this, but at the same time I feel that we can do more. In the Up-Island districts than anybody else to help foster industries. So far as districts adjacent to Victoria are concerned, we are the only ones who can get the power here at the lowest possible cost, in view of the fact that, should anybody else develop and sell us a large block of power, that power would be delivered to us plus their profit. I am sure I do not have to tell you, gentlemen, that to pay two profits is not as satisfactory as to pay one."

"In concluding these remarks I have not the slightest hesitation in coming to you who are directly interested in the future welfare of this part of the Island from an industrial point of view, and asking you for all the support that you can possibly give us, as I feel—and I am convinced you also feel—that in endorsing our application, the Island as a whole and Victoria and surrounding districts in particular, will be greatly benefited by the Government granting our application."

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

FLIER LUNDBERG PREVENTS CRASH

Winnipeg, May 6.—Capt. Einar Paul Lundberg, member of the Swedish Air Force and rescuer of Gen. Umberto Nobile, was instrumental in avoiding an aeroplane tragedy in Manitoba when flying from Emerson, Man., to Winnipeg. He saw the undercarriage of one of his escort planes hanging low and ready to collapse.

Flying from St. Paul, Minn., Capt. Lundberg was joined at the boundary by an escort of local planes, and shortly after leaving Emerson the world famous aviator noticed the damaged undercarriage of a Moth piloted by Alvin Keith of Winnipeg and in which Miss Dorothy Bell, local aviatrix, was a passenger. Speeding up his plane, Capt. Lundberg managed to fly alongside of Keith and signal him news of his danger.

Flying to the Winnipeg Flying Club's aerodrome and touching ground lightly, Lundberg managed to taxi some distance on one wheel, later pulling the damaged wheel safely and lightly on the ground.

TOOTH AND BONE MAKING MATERIALS IN AVERAGE DIET

Prospective and nursing mothers are told that their diets must contain tooth and bone making material, so that their own teeth will not decay. Nature is zealous that the child may not be deprived. In many instances the mother hasn't the faintest idea in what foods the awe-sounding calcium and phosphorus may be found. She knows that calcium is lime—and she jumps to the natural conclusion that she must have lime water, or better yet, have it, as a means of supplying the system with this necessary mineral.

The mineral elements are in all the common foods. We can get iron from iron pills and tonics, but we can get an even better supply and one more appetizing and readily used by the body in eggs, raisins and spinach and in foods rich in iron. The same is just as true of the lime and calcium. There is more lime in a quart of cows' milk than in the same amount of lime water, and one is sipped up by the body, as it were, and turned into good bones and strong teeth, while a large part of the other merely acts as an anti-acid.

EASIER TO LEARN WHY

In thinking over her menu for the months of pregnancy and later during the lactation period, the mother need not fear her hair worrying about lime or calcium. She must know what constitutes a good diet at this time, and if she will just glance at the following classifications, she will understand without argument just why she is told to drink a quart of milk or use other milk products each day, just why she is told that she should eat whole-grained cereals or breads made of them, and why it is absolutely necessary that she eat several different vegetables and fruits each day not only for their nourishing powers, but for their roughage and their mineral content.

WHAT DIET SHOULD CONTAIN

Not only are lime and phosphorus found most abundantly in milk and such milk products as cheese and butter, but in meat, fish, shell-fish, eggs, oatmeal, chocolate, molasses and graham flour.

Moving on to the vegetable family we find in beans of all kinds, peas (dried, fresh or canned), carrots, spinach, turnip tops, pumpkins, rutabagas, water cress, celery and parsnips the mineral content.

Among the fruits, figs stand highest on the list in their supply of these particular minerals, and blackberries, raspberries, currants, dates, strawberries, oranges, peaches and raisins also have an appreciable supply.

Just the ordinary good diet which is stressed constantly as being most essential during this period will contain all of these foods, so that getting one's supply of calcium and phosphorus and thus furnishing the fetus or the nursing baby with an adequate supply is simplicity itself.

AUTHORS TO HOLD BIG CONVENTION

Annual Gathering to Be Staged at Halifax in June

Halifax, N.S., May 6.—(By the Canadian Press)—The ninth annual Canadian Authors' Association will be held in this city June 25, 26, 27 and 28. The programme will include a paper on "The Contribution of the Canadian Pacific Coast to the Development of Canadian Literature," by A. M. Pound, Vancouver branch, while the Maritime contribution will be discussed by Prof. Achibald MacMechan of this city.

"Canadian Magazines and their Problems," "The Canadian Writer from the Publisher's Point of View," "Canadian History as a Writer's Field" (Prof. Call, H. A. Cody and Robert Watson, speakers) are among the papers to be given. There will be great diversity of social entertainment, sailing, dancing and driving being featured. A reception and dance at Government House will be given June 29.

MISSION BANDS HOLD RALLY

The Mission Band rally held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Saturday afternoon was well attended by all the Presbyterian Mission Bands of the city, and a splendid group of children were present from Sooke.

The children gave a very interesting programme of a missionary nature. Much credit is due to Mrs. McQueen's Chinese band, who sang a quartet in a very creditable manner in English, entitled "Speed Away." After the programme Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell gave a most inspiring address with lantern slides on India, which was much enjoyed by all. The meeting closed with the children's chorus, "Our Mission Band Forever."

Mushrooms Turn Plainest Foods Into Delicacies

(By Sister Mary)

Many housewives use the delicious flavor of mushrooms in combination with other ordinary materials to create a truly delicious dish. They keep mushroom paste or catsup on their emergency shelf constantly.

However, with fresh mushrooms being brought into our local markets from nearby mushroom farms, most of us can enjoy the use of the fresh product rather than the bottled or canned one.

Cultivated mushrooms are not prohibitive in price and are much more desirable than those gathered in the fields. Too much danger from poisoning lies in eating mushrooms which have been gathered by any one but an authority on this subject.

The nutritive value of mushrooms is comparatively good. They are particularly noted for their protein content but as they are almost ninety per cent water, a goodly quantity of them would have to be eaten to make them a true meat substitute. Even then they are deficient in some of the nutrients found in lean meats. The chief value of mushrooms lies in their uniqueness of flavor.

Unless mushrooms are very dirty and sandy they should not be washed. They are very delicate and water tends to destroy their flavor as well as make them tough. Separate the caps from the stems. Scrape the stems and peel the caps if the skin is tough. The stems are often tougher than the caps and require longer cooking.

If mushrooms must be washed, do it very gently, taking care that the gills do not become water soaked. Dry them on a soft cloth and turn cap gills downward to dry.

The peelings can be covered with cold water, brought to the boiling

SAVING THE HOSTESS WORK

By SISTER MARY

The woman who entertains the same small group of friends every few months is often quite "at sea" for her refreshments. Something "different" is always desired, but too often this means elaborate out-of-season luxuries that strain the housekeeper's allowance.

The dessert that can be made the day before is ideal for any company meal. There are always many demands on the hostess as well as the cook when extra people are to be served, and if the hostess is also the cook the more she can accomplish the day before the better off she is.

Attractive service and garnishing do much for even the simplest dessert. Individual molds make for a party air but sometimes take too much room in the ice box. Neat, clean-cut servings from a large loaf or mold are perfectly proper for any occasion. Very often the large mold can be garnished and made to look quite elaborate and festive. Serving a dessert in this fashion permits each person to help himself.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

MOTHER CORRECTS MOTHER
One Mother Says:
A mother I know keeps a record of her children's conduct, grading them closely every night. I didn't care for the idea, but thought I might try grading myself, using such points as "softness of voice," "evenness of temper," "number of times I said 'Don't,' etc."

My grade the first day was only twenty-five! It is running about eighty now. I hope to raise it still more.

The children react beautifully, much better I am sure than if I were to grade them instead of myself.

LADY GREENWOOD NOT CANDIDATE

Walthamstow, Essex, May 6 (Canadian Press Cable)—Lady Greenwood has declined the request that she become Conservative candidate in East Walthamstow in the general election in succession to her husband, Sir Hamar Greenwood, noted Canadian, who is retiring for business reasons. She said that after twenty years of campaigning with her husband she considered that home ties came first.

TWO MEXICANS HELD AT NEW YORK

New York, May 6.—Two alleged Mexican rebels spent yesterday in a federal jail here while a little black bag containing $750,000 with which the Government believes the men were abducting to Spain reposed safely in the vaults of the Harrison Trust Company.

Two United States citizens, one of them a government official, who were charged with conspiring to assist the flight from Mexico by way of the United States, were at liberty under $2,500 each.

United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle announced last night the raid in which the four were arrested Saturday at a local hotel had been a complete roundup and no others were believed to be implicated in the alleged plot.

The raid had been planned carefully by Tuttle. Under his direction a party of twenty federal agents and New York policemen, headed by an assistant federal attorney, entered a suite of rooms in the Hotel McAlpin. They arrested Salvador Atenc, former paymaster in the Mexican rebel army; Antonio Marquez, his secretary; Russell Matthews, assistant director of immigration at El Paso, Texas, and W. H. Fryer, former assistant United States attorney at El Paso.

The two Mexicans had been arrested last Wednesday in Kansas City as fugitives from justice from El Paso, where Atenc was wanted for smuggling an aeroplane into Mexico. At Kansas City the men posted bonds of $5,000 each out of the black bag and came to New York, with secret service men on their trail.

According to officials, Atenc persisted in saying the money and securities in the bag were his property and that most of the valuables had been dropped in El Paso banks before the present revolution.

Unheralded British Pro Leads In Open Tournament

Fred Jewell Heads Big Golf Field With Fine Score of 72

Bobby Cruickshank and George Von Elm Are Next With 73s in First Eighteen Holes of Qualifying Round of British Open Golf Championship; Leo Diegel Has a 74; Abe Mitchell is Tied With Walter Hagen, Archie Compston, Aubrey Boomer and Cyril Tolley; Weather Sends Scores Skyrocketing; Johnny Farrell, U. S. Open Champion, Has an 82.

Gullane, Scotland, May 6.—With most of the big international field accounted for, three of the first four places were occupied by U. S. stars in the first qualifying round of the British open golf championship today.

An unheralded British professional, Fred Jewell, set the pace with 72. Bobby Cruickshank and George Von Elm, each with 73, and Leo Diegel with 74, were next. Abe Mitchell, long driving British star, had a 75. This put him in a tie with Walter Hagen, such British players as Archie Compston, Aubrey Boomer and Cyril Tolley, the former British amateur champion.

SCORES ARE HIGH

Scores were sent skyrocketing by bad weather conditions, especially in the afternoon, but with the exception of Ed Dudley, who scored an 85, all the U. S. players appeared safely in the fold with Bill Mehlhorn yet to be heard from. Johnny Farrell, U. S. open champion, had an 82.

Jimmy Thompson of Knoxville, Tenn., an unexpected U. S. threat, turned in 77 along with Tommy Armour and Al Watrous. Horton Smith scored 78, while Joe Turnesa, Mac Smith, Jim Barnes and John Golden were grouped at 79.

The veteran J. H. Taylor had a creditable 77.

Max Behr, of San Francisco, took an 83, while F. W. Seles, of the Pine Valley Club, Philadelphia, virtually let himself out of the championship with an eighteen-hole card of 101.

Qualifying rounds for today and tomorrow will narrow the field down to 100 or so. The one hundred low scores and all ties for 100th place in the thirty-six-hole qualifying test, advanced to the championship contest, of seventy-two holes.

The first eighteen holes of the championship proper, are to be played Wednesday; eighteen more on Thursday and the final thirty-six on Friday.

As the afternoon started with the first rain which had started in mid-morning, settled down to a steady, soaking downpour.

Farrell took six strokes to reach the seventeenth green and then used three putts before he was finally down.

Dudley's eight at the fifth resulted in part from visits paid to two bunkers on the way.

Although four over fours at the sixteenth, Farrell needed only a five and a four to score 77 which was the safe enough in all probability.

Instead he took a nine and a five. At the seventeenth, he sent a brassie deep in a cross bunker. This shot went into another bunker and he then buried the green and took three putts.

At the eighteenth he missed a putt of three feet for a par four.

In one of the worst downpours of the day Gene Sarazen finished with a score of 81.

SENSATIONAL SCORE

Leo Diegel went out with a sensational score of 33 but needed 39 to get home for a score of 74.

John Golden scored 79 for his first eighteen holes.

Joshua Crane, the Boston amateur, found much trouble on the Gullane Course and used 87 strokes.

Phil Perkins, British amateur champion, finished his round with a score of 76.

Tommy Armour, former open champion of the United States, called on his Scotch background to aid him in opposing the weather and turned in a score of 77.

Arnaud Massey, French professional, scored 78.

Horton Smith played his first eighteen holes at the qualifying tests in 78 strokes while Al Espinosa, another American professional threat, took 80.

Garage Teams Will Battle

Automotive Baseball League Will Open Season Tomorrow Night

Garage League baseball teams will swing into action to-morrow night at the Royal Athletic Club, when the Dodgers and Pimleys meet in the opening game of the season. The game is scheduled to start at 6:30 o'clock.

Mayor Herbert Anscomb has consented to throw the first ball. Thomas Pimley will attempt to hit, while L. de S. Duke will act behind the plate. A. E. Humphries will act as umpire.

On Thursday night Pimleys and McCauleys the other two teams in the league, will meet.

Hayes Winner Of Billiard Title

Johannesburg, S.A., May 6.—Hayes of Australia, won the amateur billiard championship of the British Empire in the tournament contested here on the United States plan of balls of 200 points each.

Allan Prior of South Africa, former champion, was the runner-up. The other competitors were Coles, English, South African, and Rutledge of South Africa. The contest ended Saturday.

Jugoslavia Is Beaten By Greece In Davis Cup Play

Athens, Greece, May 6.—Greece eliminated Yugoslavia in a first-round Davis Cup tie by taking the doubles yesterday. Zerkandi and Georgiades paired to down the Yugoslavians, Sefer and Freidricks, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3, in the doubles after Greece had won both of Saturday's singles matches.

FAVORITES WIN OUT IN TITLE PLAY

No Upsets Seen in First and Second Rounds of Uplands Club Championship

Bob Morrison, Present Champion, Easy Winner; Brynjolfsson Brothers Both Win

No upsets were seen yesterday in the first two rounds of medal play in the Uplands Golf Club, although several close matches were seen during the day. The last eight who will fight it out next Sunday for the right to enter the finals include Bob Morrison, the defending champion, Harold and Clarence Brynjolfsson, Percy Edmonds, Bill Newcombe, Bill Pomeroy, Al Falk and Gibson Mackie.

Mackie is the only newcomer, he being one of the youngest club members. He carried his position through a fine three and two victory over Dr. C. N. Westwood, who had previously defeated R. L. Challoner, the club captain.

Next Sunday Mackie will play Percy Edmonds, a former champion.

Edmonds was one down and five to play against Charley Morrison, but after squaring the match at the fourteenth, he gained lead at the fifteenth and won two holes in succession for the match.

Edmonds's break came at the fifteenth, and it was a lucky one. After he had laid a very poor drive among the rocks, he hit the greens surrounding the green on his second, and bounced back to within easy putting distance. Charley Morrison hit a beautiful drive, but three putts when he reached the green, and lost the hole. In the afternoon, Edmonds was five up at the turn on Allan Craig Jr., but was carried to the sixteenth before his opponent gave up the ghost.

MORRISON WINS EASILY

Bob Morrison required only thirteen holes to defeat George Pretty, during which he scored five threes, and eleven fours to defeat R. H. Marshall. In this last match, he played out the last nine and got a thirty-two. Morrison will play Al Falk next Sunday. Falk won from A. D. Radford and P. C. Dillabough rather comfortably, but is unlucky in the next opponent he has drawn.

The fifth and sixth in the select eight are Bill Newcombe and Bill Pomeroy, who will meet next Sunday. Probably the greatest attraction in the quarter finals will be the match between the two Brynjolfssons, both of whom were carried to the eighteenth in the second round after easy morning wins. Harold defeated Louis Glazen, one up, while Clarence put out Bobbi Frouls by the same score. Foulis, a fifteen-year-old player, was all square with his opponent at the sixteenth, and put his drive on the long seventeenth, he lost this hole, and practically speaking the match, when he three putted, while Brynjolfsson, whose putting saved him throughout, obtained a birdie three.

The winner of the match between the Brynjolfssons will most likely be a finalist, which Clarence has been for the past two years. Morrison is almost certain to be the other finalist.

The scores follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT—FIRST ROUND

R. Morrison defeated Geo. Pretty, 7 and 5.

A. R. Herkhal defeated E. W. Elliot, 5 and 4.

F. C. Dillabough defeated C. W. Brooks, 6 and 5.

A. C. Falk defeated A. D. Radford, 3 and 1.

C. N. Westwood defeated R. L. Challoner, 6 and 5.

G. Mackie defeated W. Turnbull, 6 and 5.

Allan Craig Jr. won from S. C. Treise, 3 and 1.

P. Edmonds defeated C. Morrison, 3 and 1.

W. Newcombe defeated A. D. Findlay, 6 and 3.

H. O. English defeated C. L. Backler, 4 and 3.

D. A. Macdonald won from W. Wilkie, by default.

W. Pomeroy defeated Walter Newcombe, 5 and 4.

C. Brynjolfsson defeated E. Whitford, 8 and 7.

E. Foulis Jr. defeated J. A. Watson, 3 and 2.

Here's One For Star Golfers To Try And Equal

Sacramento, Cal., May 6.—Speaking of holes-in-one. This one.

Robert France is a member of the Sacramento fire department and makes no pretense that he knows much about the technique of golf. In fact, he handled a club yesterday for the first time on the practice links at the rear of his fire station.

He swung heavily three times. On the fourth try the globe spun down the fairway.

What happened was told by his cohorts.

The ball hit a barn, a garage, a bucket, a dishpan, a piece of fire hose and then lodged in the cup 139 yards away.

Believe it or not!

BABE RUTH

might "Sultan of Swat," who hit his second home run in two days yesterday, against the Chicago White Sox. This brings the Babe's total up to four. During the training season members of the New York Yankees, world's baseball champions, were worried as Ruth had failed to display his usual hitting power. However, soon after the start of the season, Ruth began to crash them over the fence and he looks to be in for another good season. Lou Gehrig, Ruth's teammate, is expected to give him plenty of opposition this season. At the present time Gehrig has potted out six home runs.

Personnel of U. S. Davis Cup Team Is Announced

William Tilden and Francis T. Hunter Will Participate in American Zone Games; Will Leave Shortly to Take Part in Big Tournaments in Europe; Canadian Team Is Announced to Oppose U. S. in Montreal on May 16, 17 and 18; Marcel Rainville is Only New Member, Replacing Gilbert Nunns, of Toronto.

Toronto, May 6.—The United States Davis Cup team to play against Canada in the first round of the American zone games will be selected from George M. Lott Jr., Chicago, John Hennessy, Indianapolis, W. T. Allison, Texas, and John Van Ryn, Princeton. The games will be played on the courts of the Mount Royal Tennis Club, Montreal, May 16, 17 and 18. Announcement of the personnel of the team was made by E. B. Moss, executive secretary of the United States Lawn Tennis Association in a telegram to G. H. Meldrum, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association. Fitz Eugene Dickson will accompany the team as non-playing captain.

William T. Tilden and Francis Hunter, the United States first ranking players, will not participate in American zone games for the Davis Cup and leave shortly for Europe, where they will enter the big tournaments.

Toronto, May 6.—The Canadian Davis Cup team which will represent the Dominion against the United States team in the first round of the American zone play downs at Montreal on May 16, 17 and 18, was selected following completion of the trials here Saturday.

Dr. Jack Wright, Montreal, ranking No. 1 player; Willard Crocker, Montreal, ranking No. 2; Marcel Rainville, who will replace Gilbert Nunns, of Toronto, ranked No. 3 in the Dominion last year.

Just how the four men will play is not yet known. The two men who will play in the singles matches have not been announced and the doubles team is also a mystery.

Two singles matches were played Saturday in the trials. Dr. Art Ham sprang a surprise by beating Marcel Rainville in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

During the week-end Garnett Meldrum, president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, was invited by the United States Lawn Tennis Association to act in the capacity of official referee of the series between Canada and the United States. He accepted the honor. Dr. Ross Cleveland, Montreal, accepted the position of non-playing captain of the 1929 Canadian Davis Cup team.

Effective May 13, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1:45.

Wednesday Cricket League Entries To Close This Evening

All entries for the Wednesday Cricket League must be filed at this evening's meeting in the Tillamook Athletic Clubroom at 8 o'clock. Since important business is to be discussed all teams are requested to be represented.

Effective May 13, the afternoon boat to Vancouver will leave Victoria daily at 1:45.

HELP THE YOUNGSTERS

To the Sports Editor:—Through the kindness of your paper I am making an appeal for help from the sporting public of Victoria. As manager of the Victoria West juvenile soccer team, I am endeavoring to obtain financial assistance to take the team to Nanaimo on Saturday, May 11.

The boys have tried hard to raise funds, but have not been successful. This game being the third replay in a semi-final of the Provincial Cup. The team furnished money for their first trip to Nanaimo. If there are any ardent soccer fans who would like to help with their aid would be greatly appreciated.

Chile Eliminated From Davis Cup Play By Denmark

Copenhagen, May 6.—Denmark eliminated Chile from further Davis Cup competition yesterday, three matches to none. After taking the first two singles matches Saturday, Denmark clinched the right to advance to the second round by taking the doubles, Einar Ulrich and Paul Henriksen defeating Domingo and Luis Tarratov, brothers, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

LINEHAM MEDALIST AT COLWOOD

Turns in Score of 150 in 36-Hole Qualifying Round of Club Championship

Walter Hall Is Second With 157; Draw Made For First Round of Match Play

Chalking up a score of 75 for both rounds, Harold Lineham, crack Colwood golfer, carried off the medal honors in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round of the annual club championship played yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club. Lineham was playing well and should prove a hard man to beat in the competition. Walter Hall was second with 157, while Jack Matson was placed third with 159.

In the morning round Lineham was out in 38 and had a 37 coming home. In the afternoon he had a 35 going out but slipped a little coming back taking an even 40.

Norman Wallace, who reached the finals of the recent British Columbia amateur, placed fourth with a score of 162. Ed McQuade, present champion, finished in sixth place with a total of 167. Frank Thomas, Colwood veteran, also had a score of 167. Scores of 198 qualified.

Match play will start next Sunday with the defeated sixteen composing the first flight. Lineham has been drawn against E. N. Horsey, while Norman Wallace will meet George Straith. Lineham's card follows:

Curtain Is Dropped On English Soccer With Keen Matches

Middlesbrough Wins Championships of Second Division by 3-0 Victory Over Grimsby Before 40,000; Aston Villa Scores Spectacular 4-1 Win Over The Wednesday, First Division Champions; Bradford City Takes North Section Title by 3-1 Win Over South Shields; Set Up New League Record for Goals Scored With Total of 128.

London, May 6.—"Finis" was written to the English soccer football season Saturday when the champions of the minor leagues were decided on and demotions and promotions in the various sections of the league definitely settled.

Sheffield Wednesday apparently won the championship of the First Division last week just in time because Saturday they were soundly beaten, 4-1, by Aston Villa. Another spectacular beating was that administered to the cup holders, Bolton Wanderers, by Leicester City, the latter team winning 6-1. In the Second Division the feature match was the struggle for the championship between the two top teams, Middlesbrough and Grimsby, the former getting away with the honors by 3-0.

Villa Park was crowded with 35,000 people for the match with the Wednesday. At the outset the visitors were frequently dangerous, but Chester headed through following several smart Villa raids. York, with a somewhat lucky shot, got the Villa's second tally. Strange netted for The Wednesday just before the interval. The Villa monopolized the attacks after the cross-over, Waring and Walker scoring in quick succession.

A BEAUTIFUL GOAL

Forty thousand people jammed the Middlesbrough grand stand for the Grimsby match. For a while Grimsby played in open style and Middlesbrough was kept on the defensive. The Middlesbrough forwards ultimately swung into action and, after Emerson had centred, Campbell, though hampered and shooting at an angle, scored, a beautiful goal.

Middlesbrough gained the mastery after the turn round. Campbell and Williams netting for them.

Charlton Athletics played like champions to win the leadership of the southern section of the Third Division. Their opponents were Walsall and they beat them 2-0.

Thirty-five thousand saw Bradford City beat South Shields 3-1 to win the championship of the Northern Section and put up a new league record for goals scored in a season, 128.

"Speakeasy" Is Title of Movietone Production at Dominion

Lola Lane and Paul Page, Youthful Stars, Head Cast

For this all-talking photoplay, Benjamin Stoloff, director, literally combed the theatrical field. While preparations for the production of the story were in progress it was decided that only players with a fertile background of stage training be chosen.

YOUNG STARS

For this purpose the director "journeyed" to New York, where he "discovered" for the films, two of Gotham's most promising young stars, Lola Lane and Paul Page. These two players were cast at once in leading roles for "Speakeasy," and likewise placed under a long-term contract by Fox Movietone executives. Page portrays the character of Paul Martin, college bred fight champion, who is saved from the clutches of an unscrupulous band of gangsters through the effort of a newspaper girl, Alice Woods, played by Lola Lane.

Henry B. Walthall, veteran of both stage and screen, is cast in a role particularly adaptable to fine command of emotional expression. He is cast as Fuzzy, speakeasy loafer, who gives his life that the youthful lovers may be reunited.

the Coliseum Theatre this evening commencing at 8.30 o'clock, in a production entitled "Temple's Telegram." There will be stage shows every evening during the week, with matinee performances on Wednesday and Saturday afternoon.

As usual, there will be plenty of fun attached to this week's stage attraction. Coliseum patrons enjoy the good clean humor that "Toby" Leitch and his clever entertainers provide, and again this week they will not be disappointed. Miss Leone Weber, dainty leading lady with the company, will also be on hand to please her numerous friends and admirers with her charming stage presence. Other feminine members of the company are Miss Esther Todd and Miss Ada Daniels, both of them talented actresses of no mean ability. Forrest Taylor, Paul Wallace, Leon Cluff and Lorus Bagley complete the cast.

ON THE SCREEN

Portraying a character that is not unknown to Canadian audiences, Emil Jannings has the leading role in "Sins of the Father," the current screen attraction at the Coliseum Theatre. Jannings is ideally cast for the part that he plays.

In "Sins of the Father," Jannings has the part of Wilhelm Spengler, a German-American waiter and saloon keeper, who becomes a fanatically

In the leading feminine role is Ruth Chatterton, the famous star of the legitimate stage, who makes her screen debut in this picture. Her role is thoroughly an unsympathetic one, but one which will serve to introduce her to Canadian and United States screen audiences under the best of auspices. week's attraction is that of Jannings' son. Others in the cast who help to elevate the picture to a high dramatic level through their performances are Zasu Pitts, called by Eric Von Stroheim, the star director of "The Wedding March," the greatest tragedienne on the screen to-day; Mathew Betz, Jack Liden, Jean Arthur, Harry Cordling, Arthur Housman and Frank Reicher.

"Sins of the Fathers" is based on a story by Norman Burnstine, with the adaptation and continuity written by E. Lloyd Sheldon.

Well-known Comic Strip Artist Plays In Playhouse Film

George Harriman Presented With Gold Pencil For Work on Screen

George Harriman, nationally known cartoonist of the Krazy Kat comic strip, displays his artistic talent on the screen by playing "himself" in "How to Handle Women." Universal's farce-comedy starring Glenn Tryon, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre.

Harriman was induced to play the cartoonist role in the newspaper office scene by William J. Craft, director, who is a personal friend of the comic strip artist. Like all artists who love their profession, Harriman refused payment for his work.

However, the company got together with Craft and presented a solid gold pencil to him; inscribed with his name, as a memento of his brief movie engagement.

"How to Handle Women" is one of the finest farce-comedies produced this season, according to reports. If the usual method of counting the number of laughs in a picture indicates how funny it is, then this Universal film holds a record.

Thrilling Race Story "The Whip" Columbia Feature

Screen Version of Drury Lane Melodrama Is Showing This Week

"The Whip," which is being shown to-day at the Columbia Theatre, is what may be termed a "satisfying picture."

When First National decided to make this film, version of one of the most famous Drury Lane melodramas that was ever produced on the stages of England and the world in general, it did so only after taking into consideration the innumerable problems presented. It had to be treated seriously, despite that there is much of the melodramatic in its composition. The characters are all types—many of them of the typical racing variety. The scenes are extremely spectacular—the culminating effect of the great wreck scene where the express crashes into the coach supposed to contain the

OPENING AL FRESCO CHECKER COURT—NEW VICTORIA PLAYGROUND

Versatility is the lot of the modern chief executive. Here are seen Mayor Herbert Anscomb and Alderman John Worthington, who clashed in a fast and furious game of checkers, on the opening of the new outdoor checker board at Beacon Hill Park this week. His worship won the game by a decisive margin, but not before Alderman Worthington had chased one of the blue red men over the line for a crown. A spirited tourney followed, while motion picture cameras clicked out a record of the scene for distribution in current news reel films across the continent. The checker court is already in great demand, and the scene of valiant battles daily at the park. It was originated in Victoria by Alderman Worthington, and modeled after the popular court at Stanley Park Vancouver. The City Council has one renowned player already, Alderman William Marchant having won his way into the final in the checker tourney on the opening day. A delighted crowd watched the opening matches.

Monty Banks Now Director In England

Star of "Honeymoon Abroad" Takes Up Film Work in London

Appears at Capitol Theatre
This Week For Three Days

Monty Banks, star of "Honeymoon Abroad," which is now at the Capitol Theatre was a well-known comedian and director before he became affiliated with British International Pictures as a star and director.
He was born in Italy in 1897 and came to America when he was seventeen. He tried his hand at several occupations before he landed in Hollywood where he quickly found a niche for himself in film work. Mack Sennett discovered him playing in crowd scenes and recognizing his ability placed him in leading and star parts in the Keystone comedies.
He went to London specifically to play the star part in "Honeymoon Abroad." His work was so distinctive in this production and the picture made such a big success that he was engaged for other pictures and finally signed a contract to direct for British International Pictures.
On the stage this week are Hall and Dempsey, the dancing dandies, the Pingatore Sisters, Esthetic and acrobatic danseuse, Chris Wade and his orchestra will play as their feature selection "Song of the Safari," the theme song to the motion picture spectacle, "Simba," a tale of the jungle, which is coming to the Capitol Theatre Thursday. Smiling Jack Medford, the singing and dancing master of ceremonies, completes the bill of vaudeville which will be presented twice daily.

Garden City

The Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Garden City United Church met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. McCaskill, Carey Road. Mrs. W. A. Brown presided with a full attendance and several visitors.
Mrs. James reported that a mission circle had been organized.
Mrs. Pratt, a former missionary in India, gave an interesting talk on missionary expansion in Hyderabad.
The J.B.W.A. St. Columba met at Marigold Hall on Wednesday afternoon with twelve members present. Miss Powell opened the meeting with prayer and read a chapter from the study book.
The juniors are preparing a stall for the senior sale of work, to be held May 15, to raise their fourth annual pledge for the Baptistery window in the new Cathedral.

VOTERS TARDY TO REGISTER

Several Thousand Names Will Be Omitted Unless
Owners Act By May 20

Reinstatement of voters on the Provincial voters' list is continuing daily before George H. Mabon, registrar in charge of the work at the Courthouse, Station Street. The Court of Revision on the list will open on May 20.
Male and female subjects of twenty-one years of age, British by birth or naturalization, and of six months' residence in British Columbia, are eligible for a vote. A change of residence of the voter also requires fresh notification.
Some 8,000 voters who failed to go to the polls in Victoria City and Esquimalt electoral ridings will be struck off the list on May 20 unless they act to secure reinstatement. It is stated. The registration has been proceeding for months, but many have not yet applied for reinstatement. Registration can be effected at the Courthouse, or through any authorized voting commissioner.

JUDGES NAMED FOR PAGEANT

Candidates Parade From
Yates and Cook 3.40 o'clock
To-morrow

Major L. Bullock-Webster of the B.C. Dramatic School and Mrs. H. P. Hodges have consented to be judges of the personality contest to be held in conjunction with the pageant and floral shower to be held at the Crystal Garden to-morrow night.
To-morrow afternoon at 3.45 o'clock the parade in connection with the pageant will start from the corner of Yates and Cook Streets, headed by the Sixteenth Scottish Band. The parade will proceed down Yates to Douglas, along Douglas to Fort, down Fort to Government and thence to Belleville Street and the Crystal Garden, where it will disband.
TWENTY CANDIDATES
A large crowd is expected to turn out to see the twenty personality candidates, who will hold a rehearsal at the Crystal Garden before taking part in the personality promenade, which commences at 9.15 p.m.
Following the judging the presentation of the three silver trophies and the floral show will be held, after which several vaudeville acts will be given and the evening concluded with dancing on both dance floors.

McNIVEN TO HEAD NEW WAGE BOARD

J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, has been appointed chairman of the Male Minimum Wage Board. Two other members of the board will be named whenever need to bring the board into operation at an inquiry arises.

Mr. McNiven is also chairman of the Minimum Wage Board for Women and Girls.

WITH THE BOYS SCOUTS

EARLY HISTORY OF THE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

Having determined to write a book on Scouting, Baden-Powell gathered together a large library on work among boys, studied methods used by the Zulus, old Japanese methods, ancient Irish and English methods, the customs of the Knights of the Round Table, the works of Seton Thompson, Dan Beard and others. In 1908 he published "Scouting for Boys," in six fortnightly parts and before these parts were half finished troops were formed in England, and at least one in Canada. What was intended to be used as a programme by other organizations became a movement which attracted world-wide attention.

Strange to say it only survived its early years after a struggle on the part of its founder comparable to the trials of some of the great religious leaders of history. It came into being at a time when pacifism was in the air in Great Britain. The late Field Marshal Lord Roberts was stumping the country urging the people to get ready for a great war which was coming. He was derided and abused as a scaremonger and the scout movement was at once characterized as an attempt to "Prussianize" the youth of England. It was assailed and ridiculed from pulpit, platform and press. It is likely it would have died but for the friendship and vigorous help of King Edward VII.

GROWTH OF MOVEMENT
In spite of all this opposition by 1910 the movement had grown to 124,000 boys, and Baden-Powell was compelled to resign his commission in the army and give his whole time to the work, and in 1912 a royal charter was granted. In developing scouting, Baden-Powell held up for the boys' ideals, backwoodsmen, knights, adventurers and explorers, explaining to the boys that they were all scouts, collect taxes along the West Coast. Mr. Honor was made the highest ideal and the present scout law was based on the laws of the Knights of the round table. The troops were kept small in order to give the individual boy plenty of responsibility and badges were given for proficiency in various subjects.

U.B.C. MEN TO GO ON BIG SURVEY

Dean Brock of the Faculty of Science, University of British Columbia, will have charge of the mineral resources section of the survey of P.O.E. subsidy land to be made this summer of the B.C. Government, working under arrangements with the C.P.R. and the Canadian National.
Twelve big survey parties are now being made up by C. R. Crysdale, engineer in charge, at offices he has opened at the Parliament Buildings. Cabinet ministers and members of the Legislature are busy interviewing applicants for these summer survey jobs and arranging places.
Besides Dean Brock other members of the university staff will likely be given posts on the survey for the summer.
Aeroplanes have been engaged to co-operate with the twelve land parties.

Minister Makes Scout Tax Tour Of West Coast

Methods of taxing industries operating along the West Coast of Vancouver Island were personally investigated by Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, on a trip to the fishing plants as far north as Ucluelet and Barkley Sound. He was accompanied by R. D. Johnson, Deputy Minister.
Mr. Shelly said he wanted to acquaint himself with conditions in lines of enterprise which have to be considered in the raising of taxation.

Says that All Other Remedies Failed

Ontario Man Speaks Highly of Dodd's Kidney Pills

"I was suffering from a Chill in the Kidneys, Bladder Trouble, also Impure Blood, which caused boils to break out upon my face and neck," writes Mr. R. Lister, 228 Balliol Street, Toronto. "I tried many so-called wonderful remedies with no result. But after trying one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I knew that I had found something good at last. I felt a lot better and my skin took on a healthy color. Am now on my fourth box and am very pleased to say I am feeling in the pink of condition. I always recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are worth more than 50c a box." Even when well, an occasional dose of Dodd's Kidney Pills will fortify the kidneys.

ROTARIANS ARE WELCOMED IN TERMINAL CITY

1,800 Delegates at Convention Hear Sunday Addresses

Vancouver, May 5.—The breaking down of walls and the building of roads is the great necessity of the world today," declared Rev. Willard Brewster, D.D., of New Westminster, when he gave the feature address on "World Neighborhood" at the opening session of the Rotary Convention in the Capitol Theatre here last night.

On behalf of the citizens of Vancouver, Mayor W. H. Malkin officially welcomed the 1,800 registered delegates to the city.

Referring to the objects of Rotary, the mayor stressed co-operation. "Goodwill," he said, "is stronger than all the armies and navies in the world." "Fellowship is the keynote of our conference," declared John F. Casper, governor of the First District, Rotary International, when he replied to the mayor's welcome. "We should endeavor in our contact," he said, "to work for the good of humanity that the whole world may profit by our example."

The convention is the sixteenth annual gathering of District No. 1.

ARTILLERYMEN HOLD BANQUET

Col. A. V. Tremaine Given Cordial Welcome to Victoria

The annual banquets of the 53th and 54th Heavy Artillery were held in conjunction at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday night.

The guest of honor was Col. A. V. Tremaine, former chief gunner instructor, Royal Canadian School of Artillery, Halifax, now officer commanding of the 5th Heavy Battery, R.C.A. (C.A.).

Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett, who presided, welcomed Col. Tremaine to Victoria, and referred to the outstanding record of the regiment which he has come to command.

Col. D. Harris introduced Col. Tremaine, and in the course of his speech referred to the vital part played by the signaller in the regiment, and their necessity for practice.

Major J. B. Clearhugh proposed the toast to the guests, and asserted that the permanent members are the binding force of the whole regiment.

In his speech, Col. Tremaine expressed his thanks for the reception which he had received. He described the competition from the East that the local batteries would be sure to receive in the Governor-General's Cup, which the 56th have won for the last two years. In closing, he referred to the great co-operation which a first-class battery must have.

and won rounds of applause from the spectators with his half gainer, full twist and one-and-one-half front somersault. The defending champion also put up a good exhibition, but lacked the energy which gained Shaw his points.

It was the general feeling at the meet that the juniors gave far better performances in this department than the seniors.

DARBYSHIRE STARS
Ken Darbyshire, local sprint star, carried off first honors in the senior fifty-yard free-style event. "Getting away to a head start," the local boy steadily gained on Joelson of Seattle to take the event from the Sound City contender by a touch.

In the senior 100-yard free-style
Darbyshire swam another good race.
As in the fifty, he missed on the start, but gained on Joelson. At the finish they were tied. Joelson reached for the tank end, but seemed to touch under water. Darbyshire's hand hit the end a split second after. The judges gave the event to the Seattle boy.

REID WINS TWO
Jack Reid, Seattle, 200 and 400 yard speed ace, walked away with both these senior events. In the former he took an easy lead at the beginning of the race and held it to the finish.

In the 400-yard free-style, Reid got away to a good start, taking a lead of thirty yards after the first hundred and fifty. At the finish he was more than a lap ahead of Harry King of Vancouver. Reid's time for the event was 5:28 3-5.

Although the local juniors tried hard in all events, they were noised out in the races by the Washington swimmers and failed to place.

Complete results of the finals follow:
200 Yards Relay (senior)—1, Seattle

FOODS
at Their Best!

All perishable foodstuffs must be kept constantly at a temperature below 50 degrees F.

—To prevent spoilage and decomposition.
—to maintain freshness.
—to preserve and enhance natural flavors.

Foods kept in an Electric Refrigerator ARE ALWAYS AT THEIR BEST because the frosty, dry cold in the food compartment remains below
50 degrees F the year 'round.

This is but one of the "hundred and one" reasons for owning an Electric Refrigerator.

EDUCATIONIST OF OSAKA WILL STUDY METHODS

Prof. M. Hayashi, Director of Junior High Schools in Japan, Here To-day

"We plan to attain and maintain the highest degree of efficiency in our Junior High Schools and with that end in view I am visiting this continent and Europe to study the latest methods," said Professor Masahide Hayashi, director of High Schools at Osaka, Japan, following his arrival here today aboard the liner President Cleveland.

He will make a specific study of general science which is new to the educational system of Japan.

Professor Hayashi is the directing head of fifteen high schools where 15,000 pupils attend in Osaka, a city of 2,000,000 people and the largest industrial centre in Japan.

He plans to spend a couple of months in the United States, visiting the chief educational centres, and will then set sail for New York for Europe, returning to Japan via the trans-Siberian railway across Soviet Russia.

Japan gave a tumultuous welcome to the Duke of Gloucester, third son of King George, on the occasion of his visit to Emperor Hirohito, Professor Hayashi stated.

The Japanese Emperor, he said, planned to visit Osaka on May 28 on his first visit to the industrial city since his accession to the throne. The purpose of the visit is for the inspection of educational development.

The Duke of Gloucester will in all probability accompany the Japanese Emperor to Osaka preliminary to embarking on the Empress of Asia at Yokohama for Victoria.

HOME'S PLACE IN EDUCATION VITAL MATTER

Ira Dilworth Discusses Educational Tendencies Before Gyro Club

The importance of the home in the educational system of Canada, and the significance of the recent conference on education, were the subjects discussed by Ira Dilworth, principal of Victoria High School, in an address at the weekly luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

"It has become a platitude to say man has to-day more leisure than ever before," Mr. Dilworth said, pointing to the effect of machinery in releasing men from heavy and prolonged toil as a means of earning a living.

He believed this new tendency towards education for leisure to be sane and hopeful, because the influences of youthful years cut into the very quick of the character of young people, the things they do in leisure time being the things they like doing.

TENDENCY TO SHIRK

Schools, churches, Sunday schools, Y.M.C.A.s, or similar organizations, though valuable, cannot replace the home as a centre of education.

Mr. Dilworth pointed out, contrasting the home unit of fifty years ago with the decentralized training of children in the decade to-day.

"The tendency towards shirking of responsibility by parents, in extreme reaction from the smug centralization of the hedged home of early Victorian days," he declared.

He declared that hundreds of homes exist in Victoria where boys of high school age cannot discuss their problems with their parents in frankness.

"The problem of the home, and the wreckage of boys and girls make of their lives because of misdirection, is the greatest national tragedy we Canadians in building up a great country," he concluded.

Gordon Ballantine was introduced as a new member by Louis Glazen.

H. Dawson, J. G. Simpson and Dr. Charles Mess were presented with birthday gifts from the club by A. W. Trévett.

Variations on "The Charge of the Light Brigade," as recited by a Frenchman, an English "chappie" and a clergyman, were given by W. Speedy.

Expropriation of property for the widening of the streets of Nanking without compensation to the owner, is a step in China's "progressive idealism," according to C. K. Meyers, who has just returned here to-day from Shanghai by the steamship President Cleveland.

Mr. Meyers does the owner receive no compensation, but he is compelled to pay for the improvements to that section of the street over which his property fronts. All this is part of the "westernization" of China, although the western methods, at least from the standpoint of municipal improvement costs, are being improved upon in the opinion of Mr. Meyers.

Nanking, he says, is being modernized beyond the comprehension of the outside world.

Apart from the wholesale street-widening programme which is rapidly being carried into effect, provision is being made for a new water supply and plans are being prepared for Government buildings that will eclipse anything of the kind in China.

ABANDONED CITY

Peking, on the other hand, has lost its standing and is taking on the appearance of an abandoned city. Over 100,000 officials have been transferred from Peking to Nanking and Mr. Meyers says it will be even worse when the foreign embassies are moved to the new capital.

Development in China, he says, is being held back because the Nationalist Government as yet has been unable to establish international credit.

BARNES GIVEN FOUR-GEAR AIR CONTRACT

Operators of Victoria-Seattle Mail Plane For Last Year Given Renewal

For a consideration of seventy-five cents a mile, Barnes and Gost Air Line Incorporated of Seattle, were to-day awarded the air mail contract between Seattle and Victoria, it was learned here upon receipt of information from Washington, D.C. The contract will commence on July 1 and will be for a term of four years. Barnes and Gost were the low bidders.

For the last year Percy Barnes has been operating the Boeing flying boat which has been carrying mail to and from Seattle to connect here with trans-Pacific liner. He is in Victoria about fifteen days a month on an average, sometimes making as many as four round trips in a day. In 1927 he operated the plane for several months for the late Eddie Hubbard.

NO ACCIDENTS

During the last year, Mr. Barnes' plane has never met with an serious accident. Once or twice he was forced down on account of heavy fog or bad flying conditions, but never has the plane suffered injury.

Barnes and Gost maintain the only port of entry for water planes in Seattle, their landing being in Lake Union.

The Home Oil Company is the local headquarters for Mr. Barnes' company, the landing station being situated in the Inner Harbor.

OBITUARY

Funeral services were held at Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the late Rev. William George Hollingsworth Ellison, Rev. N. E. Smith officiating in the presence of many friends. The hymns sung were "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me." The remains were later forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

The funeral of the late Capt. Edward Gilliam, who passed away while on the Ss. Princess Nora suddenly on May 3, will be held at 2 o'clock, afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, 619 McPherson Avenue, proceeding to St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, where service will be conducted by Rev. E. Moss at 2.15. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The remains of the late Mrs. R. J. Roberts of Kuper Island, widow of Rev. R. J. Roberts, a pioneer missionary, were laid to rest at St. Peter's Quamichan, Friday, many beautiful flowers paid tribute to her memory. H. E. Donald (Cheminus), H. L. Good (Nanaimo), Ernest Crofton (Salt Spring), P. B. Johnston (Somenos), R. Gibbs (Westholme), and Frank Price (Duncan) acted as pallbearers.

Mr. Roberts was buried next to her son, the late Capt. R. P. Roberts, who died six weeks previously. She leaves one son, Robert C. Roberts, residing at two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Nixon of Victoria and Mrs. Walcott of Maple Bay, together with nine grandchildren.

The remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Raymer were laid to rest in Ross Bay Cemetery Saturday afternoon, the funeral taking place from Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock, proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where service was conducted by Very Rev. Dean Quinlan at 2.15. The hymns sung were "Where the Light" and "For Ever Shined" and "Jesus Lives Thy Terror Now." Many friends and relatives were present, and numerous beautiful floral designs were received and placed on the casket.

The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: H. G. S. Heisterman, A. S. Robertson, A. Little, Richard Jones, T. S. Gore and H. Carmichael.

Many friends attended the funeral of the late Robert Kelly, which took place from McCall Bros' Funeral Home Saturday, Rev. F. W. Leighton, pastor of the church, officiating. The service was held at 2 o'clock, and the casket was placed in the Ross Bay Cemetery.

Many friends will learn with regret of the sudden death of Wilkes Barnes, Penn., on Saturday of John H. Tonkin, former managing director of the Pacific Coast Coal Mines, South Wellington. Since leaving Victoria, on the suspension of operation of the Pacific mines, Mr. Tonkin has been living in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he has been managing director of the International Coal Company. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Clarke.

The death took place on Saturday, May 4 at Resthaven Sanatorium, Thomas Hall Woodward, aged thirty years. He was born in Liverpool, England, and had been a resident of Deep Cove for the past two years. He is survived by two sisters of this city, and one brother in Winnipeg; also two brothers and one sister in England. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid to rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee Hospital on April 30, of Sig. K. Moon, aged sixty years, born in China, and a resident of Victoria for forty years, lately residing at 448 Herald Street. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and interment was made in the Chinese Cemetery.

There passed away at an early hour this morning at the residence of his daughter, 980 Boleskin Road, Andrew Paul, aged seventy-nine years, a resident of Victoria since 1921, when he came to Victoria. He was a member of the I.O.O.F., being a Past Noble Grand of Enderby Lodge. He is survived by his wife and three children.

Warrens Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Major W. C. Warren and Mrs. Warren were the recipients on Sunday of congratulations from a host of friends who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home, 39 Cambridge Street. They were married in Hamilton, Ont., in 1878. Major Warren is prominent in Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment work.

Six of their children were here for the wedding anniversary celebration of their parents. The eldest son, Herbert, however, was absent, as he is attending college at Guelph, Ont.

POPULAR CITIZEN COMPETITION OPEN

Entries Being Received For Contest Here; May Present Medal on May 24

Nominations for choice of Victoria's most popular citizen, sponsored by the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia, have been flowing into the secretary of the Appreciation Award Committee already and many more are expected in the near future.

All citizens of Victoria are eligible for the contest. Victorians are requested to send to the secretary the names of the man or woman whom they consider the most public spirited and of the greatest value to the community.

This year the committee in charge of the contest hopes to present the gold medal to the winner on May 24. Should their arrangements be delayed the presentation will be made at a later date.

The contest has always given rise to a great deal of interest in previous years and the different winners have been warmly acclaimed.

All names sent in to the secretary will be collected and given to a responsible group of local business men who will select the person whom they consider most worthy of the distinction. The contest is an effort to offer sincere recognition to the person who is doing the most to further the public interests of the city and to give him or her a token of Victoria's appreciation.

All entries must be made in writing to the secretary of the Appreciations Award Committee, Room 10, McGregor Building.

VANCOUVER GREETED HEADS OF WESTERN ROTARY ACTIVITIES

will find a friend wherever you choose to fare. If you go with mirth to a far strange land, you will find that mirth is there. For the strangest part of the queer old world is that like will join like, and who walks with love for his fellow men, an answering love will strike. And though to the utmost ends of the earth your duty may bid you fare, if you walk with truth and a friendly heart you will find friends waiting there."

DISTRICT HEAD PRESIDES

John F. Caspar of Walla Walla, Wash., district governor, is presiding over the conference.

The meeting this forenoon was called to order by J. Howard Boothe of Vancouver, chairman of the general conference committee. One verse of the National Anthem was sung, after which Rev. J. L. Sloat of New Westminster delivered the invocation.

President J. D. Todhunter of the Vancouver club made a brief address of welcome, and a tableau, "The Light of Friendship," was presented. This was a motion picture in two scenes depicting the onward march and certain accomplishments of Rotary International. The screen tableau had been prepared especially for the conference.

MANY VICTORIANS

President Dan W. Evans and Mrs. Evans head the Victoria delegation, which includes: Vice-president, Rev. Montagu Bruce, Secretary J. T. Goldlake and Mrs. Goodlake, Alderman James Adam and Mrs. Adam, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scherer, Mr. and Mrs. Morse Hatt, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kent, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kissinger, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Lamont, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Land, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Millhouse, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. Moxam, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walford, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waring, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Watson, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Charlesbois, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Woodward, Mrs. T. H. Myers, J. H. Beatty, M.P.P., Arthur Brown, B. R. Ciceri, R. O. Lamb, J. L. Dunlop, Captain George McGregor, T. O. Mackay, P. L. Naim-Smith, Jack Robertson, P. B. Schmeckel, Frank Shandley, William Sherratt, Edward Taylor, Major Harry Watts and Robert R. Webb.

CEREMONY AT MEMORIAL

Vancouver, May 6—The International Shrine of Goodwill, the Harding Memorial in Stanley Park, was the scene of an impressive ceremony this forenoon when 1,800 delegates to the Rotary District Conference, now in session in the city, accompanied by hundreds of members of the Gyro, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs, gathered to pay tribute to the memory of the man who so stoutly espoused the cause of friendship between Canada and the United States.

More than local interest will attach to the terms offered to the city for the bonds, as few Canadian municipalities have come into the market for money at this time.

Also before the City Council to-night will be the amended draft of the streets traffic regulation by-laws, proposed by the City Police Commission, and up for council review. All street traffic regulations will be consolidated after the terms of the amended draft have been settled, it is understood.

A report on the city's action in regard to Campbell River power rights is also expected, following a study of what is being proposed. The city is taking a keen interest in development plans for Campbell River, foreseeing their relation to the future development of many island communities in an industrial way.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

GRAIN GLUT GROWS

Chicago, May 6.—The Herald-Examiner today says: "With the passing of each successive day, and the continuation of the near-ideal conditions surrounding the winter wheat crop, the already stringent wheat situation becomes more acute. Export demand, the only present salvation possible, shows no sign of greater development, but instead, is decreasing. Consequently, the picture of the next two months reveals the harvest of a bumper winter crop to add to the weight of the present too burdensome supplies."

SEEK BUYING STIMULUS

Chicago, May 6.—"It seems that the cash demand is absolutely insufficient to relieve the congested conditions of the market and speculation must be greatly revived if the downward trend of values is to be stopped."

(Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

Chicago, May 6.—Wheat: Short covering was heavy at times in wheat but the buying of all kinds was swamped by the steady pressure. The visible supply showed reduction of 2,103,000 bushels for the week.

Primary receipts were considerably smaller than a year ago, but the passage stocks decreased 338,000 bushels for the week. Foreign buyers are holding back but the Canadian pool is said to be offering sparingly on the decline.

Weather continues showery. Winter wheat belt and mainly fair and cool in the Northwest and Canada.

Expert business extremely slow, deliveries 674,000 bushels. Open interest in May is down to less than 4,000,000 bushels. The market is in the doldrums, but it would seem that it is in a position to rally rapidly with any adverse change in the crop news and is probably as badly overvalued as it was overbought a few weeks ago.

Corn: Bad weather and reports of late planting with a firm spot basis and sales of 235,000 bushels, the crop being best in some time, failed to turn the corn market and the selling was heavy enough to depress prices to the lowest in a long time.

Visible stocks decreased 2,507,000 bushels in west were about half as large as a year ago. No warm weather is in sight and the forecast is for rain and cool conditions. However, longer have been discouraged over the failure of the market to advance with news bullish and the close was heavy. Deliveries were 644,000.

Oats: Weak week with other grains, there was a fair cash demand but the basis was easier and sales were 80,000 bushels. The visible decrease 498,000. Many unfavorable reports on conditions of crops are being received, but little attention so far has been given to the general feeling on the grain markets.

C.P.R. STOCK SPLIT COMING IN FUTURE; B.C. PACKERS TURNS LOSS INTO PROFIT

Montreal, May 6 (By B.C. Bond).—Discussion has been revived of a possible split in shares of Canadian Pacific Railway. According to The Financial Post, it may be taken as definite that C.P.R. will not split its shares at the present time, but the directors are likely to take such action as soon as financial markets attain a condition of stability.

C.P.R. directors are alive to the advantages of increasing the number of Canadian shareholders through reducing the market value of each stock unit. There are only a limited number of Canadians accustomed to buying and selling stocks with a market value as high as $250. But there are thousands of investors who feel they can afford to purchase stocks selling at $25 to $50. So a five-to-one, or ten-to-one split in C.P.R. would, it is believed, be favored by the directors if times were propitious. But they do not consider the present to be the right time for such a division of capital stock.

Montreal, May 6 (By B.C. Bond).—The report of B.C. Packers is that production for the 1928 season amounted to more than $8,000,000, or approximately the same as combined production of the business during the previous season. Through elimination of duplication in operations and administrations, the well remembered deficit of 1927 was converted into a large profit for the 1928 season. In this connection, Amelius Jarvis, president of B.C. Packers, states in his report that despite the fact that the control of the subsidiary companies was effected so close to the active fishing season as to make it impossible to gain the full benefit of the economies that would have been gained by control of the business during the season, the balance sheet in the profit and loss statement fully justifies the prognostications made as to the effect of the single control and the elimination of wasteful competition.

SHARE EXCHANGE OFFERED

The report is of considerable interest at the present time, in view of the recent offer by B.C. Packers Limited to exchange its own preference shares for preference shares of B.C. Fishing and Packing Company and Goose Packing Company on a share-for-share basis, those effecting exchange being given the right to purchase common shares of the parent company at $20 per share up to November 1. Upon completion of such exchanges, the parent company would have outstanding 9,961,000 preference shares, and the net profit for the 12 months period indicates that dividends would have been earned approximately three times. In mentioning this offer of exchange, Mr. Jarvis states in his report: "With an absolute fusion of the three subsidiary companies into this better company, we confidently expect still better results."

According to reports just issued, there was an increase of approximately 50 per cent in the number of shareholders of Power Corporation of Canada Limited, during the past twelve months, or from 2,050, to about 3,000. Many of the more recent shareholders reside in Great Britain, and this no doubt reflects the growing confidence in the Power Corporation stock on the London Exchange. In connection with the investment portfolio of Power Corporation, it was recently announced that the corporation holds securities of over 150 companies located in eight different countries. The book value of these securities stands at $42,000,000, while the market value is over $70,000,000, representing an appreciation of over $15,000,000. It has been the policy of the corporation in the past to allow the profits on the securities it sells from time to time to accumulate to reserve.

The movement in Brazilian Traction aroused interest to a greater degree than any incident that has occurred for many months past. The stock has been so popular a trading medium over such an extended period, that a very large section of the investing and speculating public are vitally affected by any special circumstances relating directly on the position of the big South American public utility. For this reason, when rumors became insistent that conditions in the country have been adversely affected by the coffee crop situation, and that there was danger of unrest in the rate, there ensued a heavy volume of liquidation by nervous holders, which depressed the price of the stock. Large buying orders from London and continental centres made their appearance at the low level touched last week by the stock, and the reassuring statement of Miller, president of the company, resulted in a rally which restored the greater part of the loss sustained. The reaction in Brazilian occurred in a market which was marked otherwise by an extension of the slow firming up of prices that had been in progress for the past few weeks.

NICKEL ACTS BETTER

International Nickel gave a particularly good account of itself last week, being in steady demand throughout and reaching the highest level attained since the severe break in March last. Reports continue to indicate a growing expansion in earnings of the company, and fresh buying from New York and London is associated with the pressure of P. P. Cowan in London, where he has been for the past week or so.

Interesting price movements were shown by car equipment stocks which showed a disposition to move rapidly. Oil issues provided the bulk of trading on the curb market, the rest of the list being practically neglected. McCreedy's Petroleum assumed a more active and moved up steadily. With a strong financial statement and the statement at the annual meeting that business during the current year is already showing a marked increase over the same period last year, the stock was in persistent demand, and practically equalled the year's high record price.

VANCOUVER MINING MARKET

Vancouver, May 6.—Oils were strong on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, but there was nothing doing in the mines except in Premier, which was around the 200 level.

Home Oil moved up again to sell in a big block at 24.00. Royalty was up to 178.00-180.00. Freehold gained ten points to the close around 195, after having sold as high as 200 during the session. Drilling of Freehold No. 1 well in the northern section of the field is being closely watched by all operating companies through the oil fields. The bringing in of Freehold No. 1 will definitely prove the northern section of the field, as some of the most valuable oil land. This section of Turner Valley has already been tested by Freehold No. 1 well, which is producing approximately 125 barrels of high-grade naphtha daily, and this well has not been drilled to the heavy production horizon. Freehold operating, consisting of the company and its subsidiaries, is among the largest operating companies in Turner Valley. Meanwhile, good progress is being made in drilling the pressure of P. P. Cowan in London, where he has been for the past week or so.

International Nickel gave a particularly good account of itself last week, being in steady demand throughout and reaching the highest level attained since the severe break in March last. Reports continue to indicate a growing expansion in earnings of the company, and fresh buying from New York and London is associated with the pressure of P. P. RESULTS ARE SURE

"LOVE IS OF THE VALLEY"

By DAVID LYALL

"There are quite a dozen people who are fairly well off, and who, while they have lost a substantial sum, are still in any kind of distress. They must be considered later. I might tell you in passing that they are the most unpleasant to deal with. Mrs. Calder and the Misses Kinloch and the Ballantynes, though he is a schoolmaster with a small salary and a lot of young children, were wonderfully kind and considerate. Ballantyne was only troubled because it was his wife's little nest egg they had been persuaded to invest in the mine hoping from the highly-colored prospectus and the backing given by the firm in which both our fathers' names appeared, that they might be able to send their boys to public schools in England. Mrs. Ballantyne being an Englishwoman, this has made her very bitter against the Scotch, so you see what wheels are within wheels."

"It must have been very painful for you," said Beatrice with difficulty. "Painful and horrible!"

Brodie shrugged his shoulders and then squared them.

"It was no worse than I expected, and now I feel better. I have at least infused new hope into some despairing hearts, and promised relief to those who can wait."

"And what does this mean to you, financially I mean?"

Brodie seemed to hesitate a moment. "I am not a rich man, but as I think I mentioned before I made use of some financial opportunities, entirely legitimate ones, which offered themselves out there. They will provide for cases like the Mrs. Calder and the Kinlochs, and in a less degree for the Ballantynes. I shall operate on a sliding scale, helping the most necessitous cases first."

When she did not answer he continued:

"I shall mortgage my salary. A man can live on very little out there, or he can be extravagant and spend as much as he gets. I will cut everything but sheer living for the next five or six years, and make use of every legitimate opportunity to make money."

Beatrice folded her hands and sat very still, her eyes fixed on the window from which she could just catch a glimpse of the distant sea.

There was a silence which she broke. "Your mother?" she said with difficulty. "Will she help?"

"No, she thinks I am quite mad."

"But it is wrong," said Beatrice with a soubre note of passion in her voice. "She could sell Linnorrie; think of what it would bring to the relief fund!"

"It is what I would like her to do, for she has no use for it, and I intend to leave Scotland. But she will not listen. She is going to let it furnished and travel abroad. In fact, I think she has already let it."

"It is wrong," repeated Beatrice. "I can't understand her mentality."

"She argues that it is not a fault of hers, that the dead past should be allowed to bury its dead."

"Is the suffering of these poor people nothing to her?" cried Beatrice, and her voice was as poignant as a sword's edge. "I shall be haunted by them—spectres from whom there is no escape."

"She does not look at it like you," was all that Brodie said, then after a moment he added, "Linnorrie is much smaller now. I don't know if you are aware that most of the farms changed hands in my father's lifetime. Several of the tenants bought their holdings. There is only the home farm now and the house, and the old inn, with a handful of cottages in the village."

Beatrice looked both interested and surprised.

"I had not heard. Well, I can't find words to tell you what I think of all you have done. It fills me with envy, because as yet I can do so little. But I shall be able to help next year. I hope. I am getting on well here, and when I have the business for myself I will save every penny."

"But you are not so responsible as I am. It was my father's doing, not your father's."

"Ah, but don't you see; it is the name!" cried Beatrice feverishly. "It was the old name, Heron, they trusted, thinking it impossible that anyone bearing it could even connive at anything not absolutely straight and sure."

Brodie could not gainsay that, because which he said, "I had been told he had endured that week he had had the fact rubbed into his inmost consciousness. Among Edinburgh folks names of Brodie counted for very little, whereas that of Heron had stood for generations for things honest, things lovely and of good report."

"Well, that is the account of my week's work; I have still some to do."

"And who will administer the funds while you are so far away?" she asked. "I should like to know, so that the moment I have anything to spare I can pay it in."

He hesitated a moment before he answered very gently. "I will give you the name if you desire it, but honestly I don't think you should be yourself responsible even for a share. Besides, if you will excuse my saying it, your position appears to be very precarious."

"It will not be a little later. I am determined to succeed, and I, too, am live on very little. Who is to be the administrator?"

He gave her the name of a young solicitor with whom he had been in intimate terms at school and college, and briefly explained what arrangements he had made with him for the payment of certain moneys, more especially such as were helplessly Mrs. Calder and the Misses Kinloch.

As Beatrice listened she was amazed not only at the practical business method, but at the fine consideration with which it was invested. Her respect for John Brodie increased by leaps and bounds, and her eyes were very soft and lovely as they fixed themselves on his face.

"If you will excuse my making a suggestion, a very efficient way in which you could help would be by paying an occasional call—keeping yourself in personal touch with some of these distressing cases. Then you could let me know whether in your judgment anything required to be done, that is, if you will take the trouble to write to me at Singapore."

"I could surely do that little thing, after all you have done, and I will go and see both the Misses Kinloch and Mrs. Calder, as well as some of the others by degrees."

"Thank you, then I shall go back with a happier mind," he said, and suddenly rising took a turn across the floor. "May I see you again during the next few days?"

"Yes, if you wish it; why not?"

"Thank you. I am grateful even for that. I wish to stand well with you, Miss Heron. I dare say you have understood that?"

"I have not thought about it at all," she answered, and once more seemed to withdraw into herself, her momentary softening gone.

"Nevertheless, it was when I discovered how you felt about this whole unhappy business that my plan of relief, or rather my justice plan, crystallized."

Beatrice made no answer. Then a sudden passion flared in Brodie's eyes, as he saw his shoulders he looked at her steadfastly.

"I don't suppose you can have guessed, I love you. I want you for my wife, and if this unhappy business which brought us together first helps me to win you, why then I shall not regret it."

Beatrice pale to a deadly color, then the flame rushed back to her cheeks.

"You must be quite mad, Mr. Brodie. We have met but twice. It is impossible you can feel like that. Please don't say any more."

"When I saw you the first time I knew that it was all up with me, and that I had met the only woman I should ever marry. If you refuse, I shall never look at another. It is like that with some men. Do you think you could?"

The Early Phoenicians

During the time of Pharaoh Necho of the 26th Dynasty, Phoenician traders circum-navigated Africa. It is recorded that in the event of the navigators being lost at sea, Necho promised to deliver to their dependents several cattle (pecus) as security.

This is the first of a series of historical advertisements depicting the evidences through the ages of mankind's need of what we know today as Life Insurance.

A beautifully illustrated booklet containing the future series can be secured by writing to:

Not only did the Phoenicians give us the alphabet—to them goes the credit for this, the first form of insurance.

To-day, through The Dominion Life Assurance Company, thousands of Canadians enjoy the benefits of modern insurance protection. Established forty years ago, this Company ranks as one of Canada's strong financial institutions. Conspicuous in its success is the outstanding reputation it has maintained for paying large profits to policyholders.

POOR PA

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The Goofygoos laughed loud and long. Said he, "On shore's where you belong, and now that I have rescued you, you'd better build a blaze. Your clothes, it seems, are soaking wet. If you're not careful you will get a chilling cold, and it might last for days, and days, and days."

"Too many tots let such things go, and then the first thing they know, they're sick in bed. 'Tis better, far, to take care of your health. As long as you do as you should, you'll have your health and feel real good. I'd rather have fine feeling, kids, than all the world-wide wealth."

"He's right," said Scouty, "we'll be sick if we don't build a fire real quick and dry the clothes that we have on. Let's all get busy now. Bring on some wood and pile it high. Then, when it's set to flicker I will make a spark with two big stones. A Boy Scout knows just how."

Soon Scouty said, "Well, lads, here goes," and lit the fire to dry their clothes. When they were dry, wee Carpy cried, "I have a dandy plan. We broke the hornets' nest you see 'Twould be as nice as it could be for us to build another one. I'm very sure we can."

Nearly they found some bits of wood and built a nest as best they could. Then Carpy climbed a tree trunk, and he put it in the tree. And then they heard a buzzing near, said Scouty said, "Well, look who's here!" The Tines looked and promptly saw a great big bumble bee.

"Now don't be scared," the bee cried out. "I am your friend, without a doubt. I saw you build that hornets' nest, and now, if you don't mind, I'll give you honey you can eat, and you will find it is a treat. This comb of honey's what you get for being very kind."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Garden

Copyright, 1929, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was working in his garden one morning, raking the brown earth smooth before he planted seeds, when he heard some noises back of him.

"It would be just like the Bob Cat or Fuzzy Fox to sneak up on me when I'm making my garden," thought Uncle Wiggily and he took a good hold of the rake handle so he could scratch the Bad Chaps if they tried to "hit him."

But as the rabbit gentleman looked around he saw neither the Fox nor the Bob Cat. He saw his own two little rabbit girls, Jingle and Jangle. With them was Baby Buntie, the little rabbit orphan.

"Oh, hello!" called Uncle Wiggily, cheerful-like and happy.

"Hello," answered the little rabbits and then Baby Buntie, being the boldest though she wasn't the oldest, said: "Have you got a few pennies you can spare?"

"Pennies! Oh, I guess so," answered Mr. Longears and, putting his paw into his pocket he pulled out some money—five-cent pieces, ten-cent pieces and even quarters.

"We only want pennies, if you please," said Jingle.

"Oh, hello!" called Uncle Wiggily.

"Why pennies?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for often, before, the bunny children had asked for as much as five cents at a time.

"Oh, we just want pennies—because," said Jingle, "I guess they are going to buy lollipops and they are afraid to tell me. Well, my dears, here are some pennies," he went on, picking out the brown copper money from the silver and nickel. "But don't eat too much candy. A little is good for you, but not too much."

"Oh, we aren't going to buy candy, are we?" asked Baby Buntie of Jingle and Jangle.

"No, we aren't," said Jingle and Jangle.

"Well, have a good time!" said Uncle Wiggily, "and don't be late for school." Then he planted some seeds of carrots, cabbage and turnips in his garden so the vegetables would grow that he might eat them. He heard Buntie, Jingle and Jangle run along and he thought they were going to school and, on the way, would stop and buy something with the pennies he had given them.

So Uncle Wiggily finished making

To-morrow's Horoscope

TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1929

Benefic aspects seem to rule to-day, according to astrology, which reads many signs of great promise for the United States. Women are supposed to benefit more than men while this configuration prevails. They should push all their important interests.

Love affairs will probably multiply under this way which makes for romance, especially among the young.

This is likely to be a devastating day among college students who have time to indulge in flirtations, for they will be unusually susceptible.

Wise boys and girls will pay attention to books instead of to one another while this direction of the stars continues.

Jealousy, ambition, envy and a tendency to quarrel may be apparent in the association of young folk.

This is not a auspicious way for domestic harmony and there should be care to avoid all argument.

Clashes between idealism and materialism may be frequent at this time when thought fashions are to change with the modes of everyday apparel.

All the signs seem to prepare for the young tremendous advancement and his opportunities.

Girls are to find their right places in the general science of world progress, but they will not compete with their brothers except where they have special fitness for a vocation, the stars prophesy.

Post office service is to be improved. It is forebode, because all the country is to stress efficiency and to resent unnecessary waste of time.

One of the new awakenings will be a recognition of the real value of time, which nevertheless seeks to eliminate hurry.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the nursery of a year of serene happiness. They should make the most of the period of real sunshine.

Children born on this day probably will be fond of outdoor life and "exceedingly wholesome in their outlook on life. Many musicians are born under this sign. Winston Sedil was born on this date, 1859.
